JAPS SEIZE SINGAPORE AIRPORT

LONDON HEARS

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—A Tokyo broadcast recorded by Reuter's today said the Japanese invaders of Singapore island had captured the Tengah airport, about 10 miles northwest of Singapore city. The broadcast said the airport was occupied at 1:30 p. m. (2:30 a. m., E.W.T.) as the Japanese forces which crossed Johore strait during the night drove a deep salient into the northwestern part of the island.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today his troops on Bataan peninsula in the Philippines repulsed new attacks by the Japanese, while the Manila bay fortifications silenced several big-gun siege batteries on the Cavite shore.

A War Department communique said heavy infantry fighting had occurred at several points on the peninsula with hostile dive bombers active overhead, but all attacks were repulsed by the American-Filipino defenders.

In the battle between the Corregidor string of fortifications at the entrance to Manila bay and the hidden Japanese guns which have been bombarding the forts for several days, the forts' guns scored several direct hits on enemy batteries.

Indications were that a new Japanese offensive would be launched almost at once.

Synchronized with the renewed heavy pressure on the Bataan front was the systematic bombardment of the American forts which still bar the entrance of Manila Bay to Japanese naval forces.

Enemy land batteries, firing methodically every four minutes, threw big shells for the second successive day at the island fortifications which command the harbor's mouth. Nevertheless, no serious damage to the forts was reported in the War Department communique which covered developments up until early Monday morning, Philippine time.

Official U. S. Communique

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (INS)—Following is the text of the 98th War Department communique issued today:

PHILIPPINE THEATER—

Some of the concealed enemy batteries which have been firing on our harbor defenses from the Cavite shore have been located and attacked by counter-battery fire from our forts.

"Several direct hits were observed and some of the enemy batteries were silenced.

"Heavy infantry fighting occurred intermittently at various points in Bataan.

"The enemy made several attempts at penetration and infiltration. All attacks were repulsed by our troops. Hostile dive bombers were active over our lines.

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

SINGAPORE FRONT—Japanese forces, under cover of artillery barrage, land on Singapore island at Behri section (1) of the Strait of Johore. Bringing up tanks, Japs battle British along 10-mile battleline (2) from Sungei to Pasir Laba. Tokyo reported late today the capture of Tenga airport, between Hong Kah and Panjang on the battleline. Meanwhile, Japs land troops on Palau Ubin island (3), dominating the strait along Malaya.

By C. YATES McDANIEL

Determined defenders of Singapore rallied for attack to throw a strong invading force of Japanese off their embattled island today after pinning them down to a 10-mile front along the western swamps and beaches.

"The situation is well in hand," declared Maj.-Gen. Henry Gordon Bennett, commander of the Australians, whose sector the Japanese had chosen for a surprise night landing.

"We have taken a stand on a strong line and are organizing an attack which it is hoped will recover as much as possible of the lost terrain."

(Tokyo broadcasts, heard in Oslo, declared Jap parachutists took part in the battle, and reported the Jap navy was expected to join in the attack at any moment in an all-out assault.)

JAP FORCE CUT OFF

Under a hail of British artillery fire which swept the shallow waters of Johore strait, the Japanese force was virtually beleaguered, unable to receive reinforcements, at least until nightfall.

Before dark, the Australians hoped to cut the invaders to pieces.

This initial force gained its foothold under cover of a withering artillery and aerial bombardment throughout yesterday and all last night.

The tempo increased violently in the night, and ragged rows of Japanese special landing boats began moving across the shell-churned straits in the light of a rising half moon.

Plunging into the mangrove swamps and rubber trees and darting into tiny inlets which penetrate the shore, the Japanese succeeded in making good a foothold protected by machine gun nests hidden in a tangle of logs and brush.

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING

Then only British shells plunged into the mud flats and beaches, as bayonet swinging Australians and hardy Indians plunged into the thick of a hand-to-hand fight.

Pushed back to this last bit of British soil in Malaya in a two months' war, the defenders were a veritable suicide army, for they had little or no chance of escape in event of defeat.

They had to throw the Japanese

TANKER SEEN THIRD VICTIM OF SAME SUB

Lewes, Del.,
Feb. 9 (AP)

Survivors of the American tanker China Arrow expressed the belief today their ship was sunk by the same Axis submarine which destroyed two other American vessels off the Atlantic coast within the preceding 36 hours.

J. O. Jordan

The Socony-Vacuum Oil Co.' 8403-ton China Arrow was torpedoed, shelled and set afire 100 miles off the coast Thursday morning, the Navy Department announced. Her entire crew of 37 was saved by the Coast Guard after spending 56 hours in three open boats.

The ship was the 21st victim officially announced by United States, British and Canadian sources since Jan. 12 when the present Axis submarine campaign in American waters began.

The China Arrow's sister ship, India Arrow, was sunk Wednesday night and the freighter San Gil went down at midnight Tuesday—both in waters not far from the scene of the latest sinking.

In all three attacks, the raider

Nazi Mine Fields Fail To Halt Reds

Moscow
Feb. 9 (AP)

•OFFICIAL NEWS

By EDDY GILMORE

Desperately pressed German troops laid vast mine fields in the Donets Basin today in an attempt to halt the onrushing Soviets, but the forces of Marshal Timoshenko surged forward over the snowdrifted steppes.

One mine field nearly two miles long was discovered and Red sappers cut five lanes through it. At another point, the Russians said they extracted 2600 anti-tank mines buried beneath the snow.

Despite these and other obstacles, the Russians swept three more Donets villages clear of the Nazis.

Eighteen other places were captured on the central front as the Reds pressed toward Smolensk. Heavy artillery was said to have destroyed ten German planes on the ground near the front lines.

In the past four days, Sevastopol artillery and planes have smashed nine Nazi artillery batteries.

On the southwestern front, the Russians said 20 members of the first Rumanian division had surrendered with their junior officers, complaining of treatment from the German command.

On the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow, a guerrilla detachment led by a "grandfather" attacked a German rear guard detachment killing 179 officers and men, capturing five anti-tank guns and other materiel.

ADMIRAL LAND NAMED CZAR OF SHIPPING

Washington
Feb. 9 (INS)

President Roosevelt today named Admiral Emory S. Land as wartime shipping czar with complete and final control over the operation of all American shipping.

Admiral Land, who at present is chairman of the U. S. Maritime Commission, will head the ship supply board recently created by the President to function with a like British setup.

Admiral Land

By executive order, the President established a "war shipping administration," named Land as administrator and charged him with securing "the most effective utilization of shipping in the prosecution of the war."

Under the President's order, the decisions of Land "shall be final."

PRESIDENT SIGNS RECORD DEFENSE BILL

WASHIINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—A $26,495,265,474 appropriation bill, the largest in the history of any nation, and carrying funds for America's growing Navy, was signed today by President Roosevelt.

The measure, providing both cash and contract authorizations, contemplates adding approximately 25,000 airplanes to the Navy's sky force and enlarging the fleet for waging war in two oceans at once.

The legislation also makes available $8,000,000,000 for the construction of war vessels ranging from battleships to torpedo boats and allocates another $5,000,000,000 for naval guns and ammunition.

The additional aircraft provided in the bill raises to a total of 100,000 the number for Army and Navy use for which Congress has appropriated funds in the last 19 months.

The measure also authorizes the President to lend or lease any of 1799 small vessels, for which approximately $3,900,000,000 was appropriated, as well as any other naval equipment up to a total of $2,500,000,000.

The unprecedented appropriation bill received final congressional approval Thursday.

MRS. F. D. DEMANDS HOUSE HEAR HER IN DANCER, ACTOR JOB CLASH

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today challenged congressmen to give her an opportunity to reply to charges that the Office of Civilian Defense is being packed with her friends, including Dancer Mayris Chaney and Movie Star Melvyn Douglas.

She also suggested at a press conference that members of the House could have called her to learn the real status of affairs before they started attacking the OCD.

'They have offices and I have feet,' the nation's First Lady said. 'Also we've both got telephones.'

DENIES HIRING EITHER

She denied she hired either Miss Chaney or Douglas. Miss Chaney, she said, was given the $4600 a year post in the physical fitness section of the OCD because the dancer had a plan which included exercises for adults and folk dances and rhythmic dances for children.

Mrs. Roosevelt first was asked by reporters what she thought about the discussions which have been raging around OCD for days.

She asked, "What discussions?"

Pressed for comment, she declared she really had not read much about it. She said that she supposed the gentlemen in Congress raising the discussions would give her the "courtesy" of replying to them.

She then made the remark about congressmen having offices and she having feet, and, after a pause, she said that newspaper reporters could quote her directly on it.

CITES PHYSICALLY UNFIT

Mrs. Roosevelt asserted, too, that she had no hand in setting Miss Chaney's salary at $4600 a year. A representative of the budget bureau is in every government department, she continued, indicating that it was the budget bureau that decided that the dancer protege was worth that money.

A reporter inquired whether it

BUY BONDS FOR BOMBERS

This is a solid and appropriate foundation of a great drive that will extend over four weeks to sell Defense Bonds and Stamps in this state for the purchase of MASSACHUSETTS VICTORY BOMBERS for our fighting forces.

If you missed the announcement in the Boston Sunday Advertiser yesterday, this campaign is indorsed by Secretary of the Treasury Mongenthau and is undertaken by the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser in co-operation with the Treasury Department's Defense Savings Staff in Massachusetts.

It offers every man, woman and child in the state the opportunity of active participation in President Roosevelt's vast program for an air armada that will crush our Axis foes in the quickest possible time.

YOU GIVE NOTHING. You merely buy bonds and stamps. You keep them. You make the world's safest investment—in the future of America.

AND YOUR INVESTED MONEY GOES INTO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE PLANES THAT WILL WIN THIS WAR.

Some of those planes will be named in honor of Massachusetts and your own participation in the drive.

Yours is the opportunity to DEFEND AMERICA by giving her the OFFENSIVE AIR STRENGTH needed now.

"BUY BONDS FOR BOMBERS."

The men of the Legion heard that call yesterday. The men of MacArthur peeped from the ratholes of Bataan as these fighting men nearly a quarter century ago—still fighting men today — peered over the parapet above the muddy dugout stair at St. Mehiel, the Ar-

Write on Blank Your Bond Is for Bomber

Individuals buying defense bonds may stipulate on the purchase application blank that their purchases are in connection with the Massachusetts Bombers Campaign.

On the left-hand side of the green application blank, opposite where you write the name with which the bond is to be inscribed, notice the three words: "Buy for Defense." Immediately above this is a small space in which can be written "Massachusetts Bombers Campaign." Write this only in the space described.

Individuals or firms buying either stamps or bonds in connection with the Massachusetts Bombers drive are requested to notify these newspapers by WRITING to the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, so that the amount representing their investment may be listed.

It is specifically requested that individual purchases be reported in writing rather than by telephone.

Nurse Describes Attack During Lonely Auto Ride

SALEM, Feb. 9—In a courtroom cleared of spectators, a 20-year-old Boston nurse today told of a terrific battle last July in a Marblehead quarry road, during which her attacker removed all her clothing and his own.

Miss Eileen Walsh, formerly of Saugus but now a nurse at the Home for the Aged in South Huntington ave., Jamaica Plain, was the chief witness against Harvey R. Court, Jr., 20, of Beckett st., Peabody, who went on trial before Judge J. Arthur Baker on an attack charge.

Miss Walsh testified she met Court, then a civilian clerk at Boston Navy Yard, at a roadside eating place at Lynnfield.

TELLS OF MEETING

That, she said, was in June, and she added:

"I was sitting in a booth having some ice cream with a girl friend. Mr. Court, a brother, and a boy friend of theirs were sitting in a booth opposite.

"Mr. Court's brother came over and sat in our booth and talked to my girl friend. Then Mr. Court asked if he could come over and sit down—which he did."

She testified that all five of them went for a ride, but the youths returned the girls to the roadhouse, from where Eileen and her girl friend drove home in the girl friend's car.

Miss Walsh said she saw Court again the following week and they went walking along the Newburyport turnpike. They returned home and sat on the front steps, she said.

"Mr. Court got familiar," she testified, "and I got angry and went into the house. He went home."

Two or three weeks passed, she said, and then she got to "thinking of Mr. Court and I thought that I had acted kind of silly."

"So, more as a lark," the nurse continued, "I went to the telephone and called Mr. Court's home. Mr. Court's father answered the phone and I said, 'Is this the courthouse? This is General Lee talking.'"

The nurse explained that "Lee" was her nickname. Then, she said, the father called his son to the phone. Later she called and made a date with young Court, she said, for July 2, and met him about 8:30 p. m.

"He came to my home and we went for a ride," she testified. "We rode around Swampscott and Lynn and Marblehead. Finally I noticed that he was driving into a road that led to the Marblehead quarry. I asked him not to. He said he wanted to park for a little while, but I said I didn't want to park.

"I said I wanted him to take me home. But he drove in just the same. He got familiar and I pushed him away. But he went on with what he was doing, even though we struggled."

The girl said she pleaded with him as she battled, but that the fight went from the front seat to the back seat, out of the car to the ground, back into the car and finally to the front seat where he stripped her of her garments. Then he undressed.

He took her home about 12:30 midnight, the nurse testified, and she said she was going to tell the police.

He replied, according to her story, that he would pay her back if she told.

"My name may be mud for six months, but your name will be mud for the rest of your life," she testified he told her.

The next morning she informed a friend and the report was given finally to police.

The brown-eyed brunette witness, short and slight, testified that the reason she reported the case to authorities was that she thought her alleged attacker might have been with other girls "and because of the Fracnes Cochran case."

Under cross-examination by Defense Counsel Francis J. Rafter, Miss Walsh admitted that "in a sense" her meeting with young Court "might have been a pickup."

She also admitted she had been drinking and had telephoned from a Lynn cafe on the night of the "General Lee" conversation. She was asked:

"When you got the Court home, didn't you say, 'General Lee has surrendered?'"

"No, I said that General Lee had given up the fort."

MADE NO OUTCRY

Q—Didn't you say over the telephone, "I'm over at a Lynn cafe and I'm stiff?" A—No.

Q—Then the resumption of the offensive with Court came at your direction? A—Those were my instructions.

Q—What instructions? A—Well, Harvey told me that if I wanted to see him again I was to call him.

Q—Have you any bitterness against this fellow? A—I loathe him!

AMY V. HERMAN

Says Mate a Bigamist

The witness, still under cross-examination, testified that while she and Court were unclad they were both in and out of the car. She admitted that none of her clothing was torn in the disrobing and she admitted also that, although another car was parked nearby, she did not cry out.

Wife No. 2 Sends Hubby To Jail in Bigamy Case

Plans of Daniel T. McNeill, 25, of Richmond st., Weymouth, to join the Merchant Marine were disrupted today when he pleaded guily in Charlestown court to bigamy and was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction by Judge William McDonnell.

McNeill was arrested yesterday on complaint of his second wife, Amy V. Herman McNeill, 22, of Soley st., Charlestown.

She told police she had married McNeill last November after a hasty courtship at Hampton Beach, N. H. Shortly after the honeymoon, she said, he told her he had been married before and had not gone through the formality of a divorce. She left him and notified police and the search was on.

According to police, McNeill married Anne Geddes, then 17, in Woodside, N. Y., in 1934 and two years later abandoned her and their two children to come to Boston.

2 SOLDIERS RISK LIVES TO SAVE TAXI DRIVER

Two Camp Edwards soldiers braved death today when they yanked an unconscious Boston taxicab driver away from a live wire, saving him from electrocution, after his cab had skidded on an icy road and struck a pole in East Wareham.

The Wareham accident occurred on Route 28 when the taxi driven by Chester J. Vadney, 21, of Maple st., Dorchester, spun on the ice, hit a power line pole and hurtled 75 yards across a field.

In climbing out of his wrecked cab, Vadney touched a power line carrying 2300 volts, which had been torn down. Unconscious, he slumped across the live, sputtering wire.

Pvts. Irving Clark and Murray Goldstein pulled him free and gave him first-aid treatment. Goldstein is attached to the 54th Medical Corps at Camp Edwards.

Vadney was removed to the Tobey Hospital, Wareham, where his name was placed on the danger list.

JUDGE DOWD RETIRES IN TOBIN OUSTER CASE

With Judge James C. Donnelly sitting in place of Judge Thomas H. Dowd who disqualified himself, counsel for Mayor Tobin today launched into a technical fight to kill ouster proceedings brought in a petition charging violations of the corrupt practices act.

Former Federal Judge Hugh D. McLellan, recently added to the Tobin legal staff, charged the three judges hearing the case in Suffolk court had no jurisdiction since Judge Vincent J. Brogna allowed presentation of the petition "on insufficient evidence."

He contended the petition was not valid since only four of the five persons authorized to sign it had done so before the statutory time limit of 61 days expired.

BAR EARLIER TESTIMONY

The three judges, Jesse Morton, Joseph J. Walsh and Donnelly, said action on McLellan's motion would be deferred "until other matter are taken care of."

A move by McLellan to introduce the testimony presented in preliminary hearing before Judge Brogna was denied after lengthy arguments by opposing counsel. The record was marked for identification, however.

Judge Dowd, appointed to the Superior Court bench in 1931 by former Gov. James M. Curley, asked before the trial opened that he be released from hearing the case.

In requesting he be relieved, Judge Dowd said:

"I have requested the chief justice to be relieved from sitting as justice of this court insofar as the instant petition is concerned because, as a matter of conscience, I feel that I am disqualified to sit upon this court which is about to hear this petition."

REPLACED BY DONNELLY

Following conference with Chief Justice Higgins the jurist's request was granted and Judge Donnelly named in his place.

Judge Donnelly was named to the bench by former Gov. Joseph B. Ely in 1931. Judge Walsh was appointed by former Gov. Channing H. Cox in 1922, and Judge Morton was an appointee of former Gov. Charles F. Hurley in 1937.

Counsel for Tobin succeeded in admitting into the record the proceedings before Judge Fosdick when that judge declined to rule on the Tobin motion against addition of two names to the original ouster paper.

McLellan charged a "serious defect" existed in the petition when Edward C. Monahan and Ethel M. Williams, although they signed the petition, failed to sign the oath.

SAYS NAMES INSERTED

He claimed the names were written above the oath by Judge Emil S. Fuchs, one of counsel for the petitioners.

Fuchs leaped to his feet and said McLellan was "exaggerating" the situation. He admitted he wrote in the names in the presence of Attys. Timothy F. Callahan and Edward M. Dangel, Tobin's counsel, and said nothing has been altered.

"This is a move to embarrass me," declared Fuchs. "I ask the court's protection against the onslaught on my character. This is just another move to becloud the issue."

Only a handful of spectators was present when the hearing got underway. Paul Curley, son of former Gov. Curley, who was defeated last November by Tobin, was present.

Young Sisters Vanish From Wealthy Home

GREENWICH, Ct., Feb. 9 (AP)—Two young sisters, members of a prominent Greenwich family and daughters of the late Howard Figg, assistant U. S. Attorney-General during the World War, were reported missing from their home today.

Detective Capt. John P. Tuefel said that 16-year-old Polly Figg and her sister, Edith Claire, 10, disappeared yesterday shortly before the older girl was to return to her studies at Miss Shiley's school in Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Their mother, Mrs. Edith S. Figg, was notified in Florida and took a plane for New York.

Figg, who died in 1938, was in charge of the prosecution of profiteers during the war. His wife, an attorney, headed the women's division of the Department of Justice at the same time.

Polly was described as very attractive—5 feet 9 inches tall, 140 pounds in weight with long blonde hair and blue eyes. Edith Claire is 4 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 90 pounds and has blonde hair.

Bar Harbor Fire Destroys Church

BAR HARBOR, Me., Feb. 9 (AP)—Fire destroyed a four-story wooden building today and the beautiful old Congregational Church from whose pulpit poets and philosophers had addressed residents of this summer resort.

After raging for four and a half hours, the flames were brought under control. All the furnishings of the 53-year-old gothic style church were destroyed. Fire officials estimated the total loss at $75,000.

TIN SHORTAGE IN U. S. GROWS MORE ACUTE

By JACK VINCENT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—War production officials reported today that the shortage of tin in the United States is now acute, with the visible supply for the coming year only 18,000 tons compared with a normal annual consumption of 100,000 tons.

"You can figure it out yourself," said one official. "We've looked all around the United States and its possessions for tin and we were only able to find 44 tons a year in Alaska. We'll get another 18,000 tons from Bolivia. But the war in the Far East has cut off all other supplies."

Approximately 65 per cent of all tin consumed in this country goes into tin cans.

Food processors are feverishly hunting for substitutes to package food. If the shortage is not alleviated, all fruits next year may reach the counters of grocery stores either in glass jars or in the dried form.

Tin supplies already have been cut off for makers of advertising specialties, musical instruments, beverage dispensing units, type metal, building supplies, tinfoil, jewelry, pewter, slot machines and toys, and the list probably will be rapidly expanded.

Ashmont Train Snarled

For all their pains in making certain to start to work on time today under wartime, hundreds of commuters were late at offices and shops—but they had a legitimate excuse.

A train line jumper on an inbound rapid transit train from Ashmont to Harvard sq. grounded at Andrew station at the height of the rush hour.

The train was pushed to Park st. under, where the jumper was replaced. Then the train proceeded under its own power.

However, there was an eight-minute delay in operations, from 8:20 to 8:28 a. m.

$5,000,000 HOTEL ABLAZE—Five-alarm fire sweeps partially built Hotel Statler in Washington, causing damage estimated at between $850,000 and $1,000,000. Heavy smoke blanketed the White House, where marines and soldiers were pressed into service to control the crowds.

Germans Weary Of RAF Bombs

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (INS)—Letters from home to German soldiers in Libya, presumably taken from captured Nazis, show the civilian ppoulatino is war weary na dshaken badly by continued RAF bombings.

The British radio, in a broadcast heard today by CBS and NBC, quoted two letters shown to Richard Dimbleby, its Cairo representative.

One, postmarked Bad Kreuzbach, said:

"The noly good thing about this weather is that the airplanes leave us alone. Fritz took back a souvenir from his leave which he will never forget—the bombing of Kreuzbach. If only the whole wretched business would end."

Buses Must Be Kept In Top Condition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Operators of the country's 60,000 public passenger buses were asked today by Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, to keep buses operating at maximum efficiency as "an essential part of the national victory effort."

"Nothing must be permitted to reduce the efficiency of this transportation—especially nothing in the way of inadequate maintenance and repair," Eastman said.

100 Billion Debt Limit Now Proposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Administration leaders in Congress plan to propose soon that the national debt limit be raised from the $65,000,000,000 fixed last year to $100,000,000,000.

The debt stood at $60,193,958,101 as this week began. President Roosevelt's $59,027,992,300 war budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was calculated to push it to $110,421,000,000.

THERE'S MORE TO DRIVING A HORSE THAN YOU'D THINK

Now some of you may have thought that all this talk about the return to horses was a lot of nonsense, but just to show you how serious it is the Animal Rescue League announced today it is planning a course on how to drive old Dobbin.

And some of you who may have got the impression that steering a horse is a simple operation have got another think coming, and you had better enroll in the course quick. Remember, you do not shift a horse . . . and you can't lift up its hood.

To give you an idea of how complicated a gadget a horse is, here is what the course will cover: The anatomy of a horse, the proper approach, stable care, including such items as feeding, watering, bedding, blanketing and grooming.

That is only ground school work, however. Next you must learn care of the feet, causes leading to lameness and what to do till the veterinary arrives in cases of sunstroke, colic, heatstroke and other ailments. After that you're ready for dual instruction in the driver's seat.

Don't think, either, that a horse is going to be much of a saving over the old family bus. The Animal Rescue League figures the cost of a horse at about $8.50 per week, divided this way:

2½ bu. oats	$2.00
175 lbs. hay	2.60
Salt and shorts	.30
Straw bedding	1.00
Stable rent	1.50
Shoeing (based on one shoeing a month at $4.50)	1.12

College Star Runs U. S. Bag to 101 Japs in Burma

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 9 (AP)—The American Volunteer group—the "Flying Tigers" of Burma's air defenses—was credited with its 101st confirmed combat victory over the Jap air force today with discovery of a wrecked bomber which Robert Keeton of Manzanola, Col., attacked Feb. 3 but was not sure he had damaged.

Keeton, former Colorado College fullback who left a Naval bombing patrol assignment at San Diego to join the Volunteers, had been detailed to the ferry service in Burma until he got the feel of the Tomahawks.

When the Jap raided the up-country field, Keeton jumped into a lone Tomahawk to save it from destruction. He too kit aloft and cruised for half an hour in a high altitude without helmet or oxygen equipment. He felt himself losing consciousness and began to descend.

On the way down he saw the only remaining Jap bomber 2000 feet below, apparently engaged in photographic reconnaissance. He switched on his firing mechanism and dived in at the enemy with all his guns shooting.

"The Jap's insignia swam like red dots before my eyes because I'd been pretty close to passing out," Keeton said on landing.

"I looked back after diving under him, but I couldn't see anything else to indicate I'd found my mark. In fact, the bomber seemed to take no notice of me. It was a light single-motored type.

"Almos a week later natives came in and showed us where it had crashed."

1000 DRAFT REGISTRATION PLACES DESIGNATED FOR MASSACHUSETTS

More than 22,000 Massachusetts school teachers, town and city officials and legionnaires today received orders for the nation's third draft, to register men between the ages of 20 and 44 inclusive on Feb. 15 and 16.

More than 1000 registration places have been designated by Lieut.-Col. Ralph M. Smith, assistant state director of selective service, for the opening hour of 9 a. m. next Sunday. Registration will continue on that day until 5 p. m. in order that workers in defense industries will lose no time. The same hours will be observed on the following day.

Those required to register are all men within the 20-44 age brackets who have not been registered in the previous two drafts. It is expected that 9,000,000 more men will register throughout the nation and give the Army ample material to double its present Army of 2,000,000 men.

out, or accept death. There was no talk of surrender.

While the roar of artillery reverberated across the island, sun-scorched Australians, Indians, British, Scottish Highlanders and hastily recruited Chinese rushed to mop up the forces which had gained a foothold.

But it was admitted the Japanese jungle fighters had succeeded in making penetrations eastward through the mangrove swamps and rubber and apple plantations which border the turgid strait.

Japanese artillery, thickly planted along the opposite shore, blasted the defenders' positions and raked the island as far as Singapore city itself, while Japanese dive-bombers patrolled the skies and strafed the roads.

British Hurricanes fought desperate engagements in the skies with some success against the numbers of Japanese planes which sought to dominate the air.

The Japanese landing was effected from boats between 11 p. m. and 1 a. m. under cover of an intense artillery barrage, between Sungei Kranji and Pasir Labs, west of the narrow causeway which formerly linked Singapore with the Malayan mainland.

"Our forward troops were pushed back in some places and there has been some enemy infiltration eastward," the communique acknowledged.

"Offensive action is being taken to mop up the enemy. The results of this action have not been received."

There were no indications of attempted invasion thrusts elsewhere along Johore strait, but the British said Jap bombers and fighters had been pounding defenses everywhere since daybreak.

In all, the British said, their fighters shot down three enemy planes, "probably destroyed three others and damaged 13. British planes also strafed and damaged a Japanese lorry and returned to their bases without a single loss, the communique declared.

Today's air victories were said to have brought to 73 the number of Japanese planes definitely shot down over Singapore. In addition, 27 more were listed as "probably" shot down.

Advices from the front said that Australian troops were holding the sector where the Japanese effected their landings and were reported to be bearing the brunt of the fighting, but British, Scottish, Indian troops and Chinese volunteers were said to be lending a hand.

(The Tokyo radio reported Jap tanks as well as infantry had been landed on Singapore Island and said Japanese forces were consolidating their positions under heavy fire.)

The section of the coast which the Japanese selected for the invasion thrust is bordered by tangled mangrove swamps and rubber estates and is defended by a series of swiftly constructed positions protected in the most vulnerable places by mazes of barbed wire and other obstacles.

INVADERS TOOK 10 DAYS

The first landing was announced this morning in a terse communique which said:

"An enemy force in strength succeeded in landing on the western shores of Singapore Island last night. They are being engaged by our troops. Fighting continues."

The assault came just 10 days after the last British forces had been withdrawn from the Malayan mainland, where for 55 weeks they had fought a losing struggle as the Japanese drove more than 400 miles down the peninsula from the Thai border.

The artillery bombardment preceding the assault, in anticipation of which the British had been feverishly mustering every resource on the island, began at dawn yesterday and continued unabated throughout the day and night.

DROP TONS OF BOMBS

From guns and mortars of all calibers the Japanese rained steel upon British defense positions fronting the 35-mile-long strait.

Japanese warplanes ranged overhead, unloading tons of bombs and screaming down to machine-gun every sign of movement on roads for some distance behind the front.

After launching their bombardment the Japanese, in an apparent attempt to trick Singapore's defenders out of position and pave the way for the main attack in the west, feinted suddenly yesterday at the British right flank, landing troops on tiny Palau Ubin Island at the eastern end of Johore Strait.

Although Palau Ubin is only about a half mile from Singapore Island at some points, there was no indications that the Japanese were pressing home the assault from there.

Before the British retreated from the Malayan mainland Palau Ubin was a strongly-garrisoned fortress, with 14-inch guns guarding the approaches to the great Singapore naval base situated a few miles to the west on Johore Strait.

The Japanese, however, apparently found Palau Ubin abandoned, for the communique announcing its occupation made no mention of resistance.

Capt. Paul H. Browne, 46, New York city, said two torpedoes from the surfaced submarine struck the China Arrow within a few seconds, setting her afire and destroying the radio transmitter.

He and Kenneth W. Maynard, 20, radio operator from Bellingham, Wash., remained aboard 45 minutes attempting to send SOS signals over a makeshift transmitter.

Third Mate J. O. Jordan, one of those saved, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Jordan of Leicester rd., Belmont, and was making his first trip on the torpedoed ship. Educated in Belmont schools, he graduated from Mass. Nautical Training School last year, and was assigned to the Ohio of the Hawaiian Line.

George Figueredo, 18, a mess boy on the China Arrow, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Figueredo of Mason st., Taunton, and was making his first trip at sea.

With him was his friend, Arthur E. Hayston, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hayston of Dean ave., Taunton.

First Air Raids Hit Batavia

By JOSEPH J. KOSAK

International News Service Staff Correspondent

BATAVIA, Feb. 9—Batavia suffered its first air raids today in a series of increasingly intensified assaults believed to be a prelude to an all-out Japanese invasion of Java.

The high command communique gave no details of damage to Batavia. Jap planes were reported over other parts of Java, Sumatra and Borneo.

Japanese patrols were said to be pushing south from ruined Balikpapen, on the east coast of Borneo, the enemy "apparently trying to reach Bandjermasin overland." This important South Borneo port lies just across the Java sea from the rich and vital island of Java, the headquarters and main defense area of the United Nations in the southwest Pacific.

Capture of Bandjermasin would add a link to the chain of strong points the Japs are seizing to forge a semicircle around Java in preparation for invasion.

A new raid was reported today on the airdrome at Palembang, southeast Sumatra. No losses or damage were reported.

British Holding Tobruk Line

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 9 (AP)—British desert fighters, holding their positions firmly before Tobruk, have thrust out patrols against the enemy in the El Mechili area south of the Gebel El Achdar ranges, the British said today in a communique.

British mobile columns engaged infantry and artillery forces of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel 12 miles west of Ain El Gazala, coastal point, which the axis claimed was captured Saturday.

YOU can help SAVE telephone service for WAR needs

Please look up numbers in the Directory. Don't trust to memory. If you dial, do it carefully. When you give a number, speak slowly and clearly.

LITTLE mistakes in using the telephone occur 117,544 times a day in New England. Each error holds up switchboards, cables, equipment and skilled personnel an average of 21 seconds. That amounts to 685 hours of telephone service every day, which means that enough operators and switchboard equipment to serve a whole city the size of Manchester, N. H. are tied up because telephone numbers are not called correctly. You can help. Please call numbers carefully—correctly.

IS THE LAUNDRESS IS AT THE DOOR—I'M BUSY DEAR, WILL YOU GATHER UP THE SOILED CLOTHES IN A BUNDLE AND GIVE IT TO HER?
YOO-HOO, MRS. MULLET! CAN I LOOK AT THAT BUNDLE OF LAUNDRY BEFORE YOU TAKE IT AWAY?
I WAS AFRAID OF THAT!

"So Now You Jack up the Fares!"

("YOU'RE JUST A BUNCH OF BANDITS AFTER ALL!")

Yes, tomorrow all our passenger customers (except service men on furlough) are going to have to pay 10% more. It's not pleasant news. We realize a lot of people these days have to count their pennies.

A lot of you are eyeing us reproachfully. Let's talk about it.

Keeping a Jump Ahead of the Sheriff

For several years, you'll recall, the Railroads haven't been enjoying especially good times. The Boston and Maine wasn't many jumps ahead of the sheriff when a lot of our bondholders in New England and elsewhere rallied around and helped us reorganize our financial structure. This made it possible for us to have our property in good shape when the war came along.

4,000 More Boys and Gals at Work

It's plain to see that today our first job is moving guns and tanks and ammunition and fighting men. The Railroads of this country right now are building 1,000 more locomotives and 115,000 more freight cars. These something like 25% more than we're using just to keep passenger cars in safe running condition.

Another thing is that we have about 4,000 more employees than we did three years ago. We need them to handle our increased business. Our total number of employees right now is 15,491.

We pay 13% More—or Else

Late last year the proper public authorities decreed that Railroad wages should be increased. This increase had to be paid—or else.

Our bill for increased wages alone this year will be upwards of $3,600,000. Our probable revenue increase from the 10% in passenger fares will be about $800,000. We must get an increase in freight rates to help make up the difference. Incidentally, our total bill for wages in 1941 was $26,009,776.94.

Not a Scheme to Smack You Down

This fare increase, by the way, wasn't thought up after Pearl Harbor or after we found out that tires and automobiles were going to become scarcer and scarcer. When the Railroads petitioned for this increase in fare we knew (regardless of the most optimistic viewpoint as to increases in business) we just couldn't continue to operate on the old basis.

A Railroad has no mysterious way of getting money. It's just like any other business or for that matter just like your personal household. You can't spend more than you take in (and stay out of court or away from bankruptcy.)

So Here Is the Answer to "How Come?"

Your tire shortage, therefore, had nothing to do with the reasons for this increase and we feel very sure that our good friends and customers will realize this after they know the facts. Our "household" expenses have been and are increasing, the same as yours.

So you see we didn't jack up the fares just because we are "a bunch of bandits." We jacked them up because we had to do something to be able to pay increased wages and to pay increased expenses if we wanted to keep the Railroad running. At this time of all times in our country's history, THE RAILROADS MUST NOT FAIL.

Perhaps this is "A H-l of a Way to Run a Railroad"—

BUT—the Railroad HAS to run

War Veterans Start 'Buy Bombers' Drive

gonne, Belleau Wood. The men of the Legion heard and answered.

Their pledge for the bomber campaign was in addition to more than $100,000 worth of defense bonds already purchased by American Legion posts in the Massachusetts State Department.

When State Commander Richard Cunningham learned of the campaign to BUY BOMBERS WITH DEFENSE SAVINGS STAMPS AND BONDS he conferred with Daniel J. Doherty, administrator of the Treasury Department's Defense Savings staff in Massachusetts.

Administrator Doherty is a former Massachusetts State Department commander, and also was national commander of the Legion.

$100,000 IS PLEDGED

At this conference the pledge of at least $100,000 in subscriptions was arranged for. Commander Cunningham, in announcing it, said in his statement:

"The Massachusetts State Department of the American Legion is 100 per cent behind the campaign to Buy Bombers.

"To start the drive, the State Department of the Legion pledges the sum of at least $100,000 toward achieving a victory goal.

"Every post throughout the state—and there are 353 of them—is enlisted to assist in this patriotic move. As state commander I have every confidence that we will go well over the top with our initial pledge, and it may be that we will duplicate the figure.

"Every Legionnaire in Massachusetts is urged to get behind the movement and place the good old Bay State ahead of all others toward providing our fighting men with plenty of bombers.

"With other Americans we stand shoulder to shoulder in a united effort to defeat the aggressors, now and forever.

"I congratulate the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser for their campaign to sell more and more defense savings bonds and stamps."

FIRST PURCHASE MADE

The first actual defense bond purchase in the campaign was made in the State House Hall of Flags a short time later, when Edward T. (Ted) Mulkern, wounded and decorated hero of World War I, bought a $5000 bond for Irving J. Adams Post of Roslindale.

Mulkern, who received the bond from Mrs. Rita Monroe of the State Department, is attached to the Boston office of the Veteran's Bureau, and served overseas in the same outfit with Lynn Stambaugh, present national commander of the Legion.

A bulletin, signed by Comdr. Cunningham, has been sent out to the 353 Legion posts of the state, asking their co-operation in the drive. Several have already assured the commander that they will buy anywhere from $500 to $1000 worth of bonds this week for bombers.

GLORIOUS OPPORTUNITY

The BUY BONDS FOR BOMBERS CAMPAIGN is for everybody in the state. It provides a glorious opportunity for active participation in our air victory program.

In buying defense stamps and bonds you are making no gift. You are investing in America's future—which is YOUR OWN FUTURE—and, remember, you keep the bonds and stamps.

However, you specify that their purchase is in connection with the "BUY A BOMBER" campaign, and the money you put up as a symbol of your faith in this nation's destiny goes into the Massachusetts fund to provide our forces with the greatest air fleet of all time.

STRIKE FOR FREEDOM

Under this plan, every stamp you buy will STRIKE FOR FREEDOM. It is an ALL-OUT DRIVE in the state which has ever been in the foreground in every war we have fought.

Remember—LICK A STAMP AND YOU HELP TO LICK A JAP; BUY A BOND AND YOU HELP DROP A BOMB ON A U-BOAT.

One basic purpose in the drive is to get men, women and children to BUY DEFENSE BONDS AND STAMPS REGULARLY. If you already are buying bonds or stamps regularly, you are requested to increase the amount of your investment for the bomber fund.

It is emphasized that the amount raised and credited to the bomber fund during the four weeks of the campaign will be credited to MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS.

GROUP PLEDGES SOUGHT

Group pledges of bond purchases allocated to the bomber fund are sought in all areas. Corporations with 500 or more employes are asked to arrange for payroll deductions for the purchase of bonds and stamps by their workers who wish to join.

It is requested that individuals buying either stamps or bonds in connection with the Massachusetts Bombers drive, notify these newspapers by WRITING to the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, so that the amount representing their investment may be listed.

Groups purchasing bonds for the drive are invited to write, or to telephone the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR at LIBerty 4000.

It is specifically requested that individual purchases be reported in writing rather than by telephone.

But whatever you do BUY BONDS AND STAMPS FOR BOMBERS. Remember, our fighting sons need BOMBERS . . . AND MORE BOMBERS.

BUY STAMPS AND BONDS TODAY. They will buy the bombers.

We buy 'em. They fly 'em.

ENDORSES DRIVE — Mayor Maurice J. Tobin signs "complete, unqualified" endorsement of the bomber drive.

Tobin Backs 'Bonds For Bombers' Drive

Mayor Tobin today gave his "complete and unqualified approval" to the Massachusetts campaign to buy bombers with defense bonds. Previous endorsements were given by Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, Gov. Saltonstall and Daniel J. Doherty, former national commander of the American Legion who is the administrator of Defense Bond and Stamp sales.

The mayor wrote as follows:

Dear Sir:

"The campaign of the Hearst newspapers to speed the purchase of United States Defense Stamps and Bonds is a real patriotic endeavor, and has my complete and unqualified approval.

"I am sure that this campaign will be most successful and will result in the raising of millions of dollars to purchase armaments so vitally needed by our armed forces.

"I know that the people of Boston are going to co-operate generously and wholeheartedly in this movement. The city of Boston employes have shown that, by their large purchases of Defense Stamps and Bonds since Dec. 7, no group is more imbued with patriotism than these employes. During the four weeks' campaign beginning on Monday, I am sure they will make even greater purchases.

"Of all the securities in America, these are the most substantial because they have behind them the entire assets of the American nation. By purchasing them, you protect your property and all your other investments in that you make the United States a strong and unbeatable nation, but most of all you protect and preserve your American way of life, your liberty and your very existence. Your purchase, whether large or small, of Defense Stamps and Bonds, will go a long way towards a complete and just victory."

Australia Sees Council in London

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Exchange Telegraph agency reported from Canberra today that Australian Prime Minister John Curtin announced the establishment in London of a Pacific war council.

Consideration is being given, he added, to strengthening Australian representation in Washington to provide an adequate link with the combined chiefs of staff committee functioning there.

Informed sources in London were puzzled by the meaning of Curtin's announcement. It had been understood the council would sit in Washington, not here.

Entire Country On 'War Time'

Boston and all the nation today went on war time—a counterpart of daylight saving time but accomplished with none of the latter's usual confusion.

Because the new time was decreed by act of Congress, every city and State in the nation saw their clocks moved ahead one hour at 2 a. m., with the change universal for airlines, railroads and all other forms of transportation.

War time, the designation approved by President Roosevelt, will remain in effect until six months after the war ends.

3 Americans, 1 Jap Arraigned as Spies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Three Americans and one Japanese alien pleaded innocent today before Justice T. Alan Goldsborough in district court on charges of conspiracy to violate the foreign agents registration act.

The defendants were Ralph Townsend of Lake Geneva, Wis.; David Warren Ryder and Frederick Vincent Williams, San Francisco publicity men, and Tsutomu Obana, former secretary of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco, who has been in a detention camp. The Americans are free under $5000 bond each.

JUNIOR VICTORY ARMY LAUNCHES SALVAGE WEEK AS OPENING TASK

As its first suggestion for duty, the Junior Victory Army of New England today calls on the 6500 recruits who have enrolled to put their shoulders to the wheel of the salvage program of the civilian defense effort this week.

NEW ENROLLEES—Arm in arm, four Belmont Camp Fire Girls of the Mahteca group march to join the ranks of the new Junior Victory Army. They are (l. to r.) Lydia Hurd, 12, Nancy Holmes, 12, Jane Horton, 13, and Norma Clayton, 13. Jane is president of the group.

By ones or in groups, all members of this new youth movement to spur defense measures can perform an outstanding service to their community and their country.

So for this week they are asked to clean rubbish, old papers and other inflammables from their basements and attics. In cleaning out this "junk" which in some cases may have gathered for years, they will find many things of value to America's all-out defense effort. There will be discarded pieces of metals, such as tin, iron, steel, copper, brass and aluminum. These things should not be thrown away.

Store these away safely for the time when they will be called for in collection drives.

MAY SAVE LIVES

In doing this work recruits will be helping to prevent fires and thus helping to save lives and property.

While all service in the Junior Victory Army is voluntary, letters from hundreds of members have inquired: "How can we help win this war?" As a starter they can engage for this week in the salvage program.

By saving papers and valuable metals they will be aiding in the production of planes, guns and tanks just as though they were running machines in defense plants. In removing fire hazards their work will be just as important as though they were wearing helmets and manning hose at a real fire.

This is one of the many things for which the Junior Army is organized—to give patriotic boys and girls a definite, responsible part in civilian defense efforts.

So for this week, Recruits of the Junior Victory Army, do whatever you can in the important work of salvage.

Word has reached Junior Army headquarters that girls and boys who have joined this movement are organizing their own clubs or battalions and preparing to carry out all the defense efforts suggested in these columns.

URGED TO REPORT

They are invited to send reports of their activities, the names of their leaders and the defense measures in which they are most interested. These will be reported from time to time in the Junior Victory Army news appearing in the Daily Record, the Evening American and the Sunday Advertiser. Because of the volume of mail, no replies can be made now to individual letters. All information about the Junior Army will appear in these columns.

The Junior Victory Army is open to all boys and girls not less than 10 nor more than 18 years old. You are eligible to join whether you belong to any other youth organization or not. To enroll simply fill out the membership coupon appearing with this story and follow its instructions.

You become a member by filling out the blank and mailing it as directed. If you want the Junior Army red, white and blue pin as an identification of your membership, send a ten-cent coin (well wrapped) with your enrollment blank. The ten cents merely covers the cost of materials, handling and mailing. DO NOT stick the coin to the coupon.

PINS READY SOON

The pins will be ready for distribution soon. They are attractive facsimilies of the insignia at the top of the coupon and can be worn on your coat, blouse or cap.

About 40 or 50 members of Troops 4 and 8 are expected to enroll in the Junior Victory Army after their meeting tonight at the Maintenance Building on Kempt st., Old Harbor Village, South Boston.

They are meeting in observance of Boy Scout Week. Father Boyle of St. Monica's Church will speak on "A Scout Is Reverent," and Council Pres. Thomas Linehan will congratulate the scouts on their cooperation with the United War Fund. Chairman will be Leo Dauwer.

The scoutmaster of Troop 8 is Gus Welling and the assistant scoutmaster is William Royle. Scoutmaster of Troop 4 is Charles Desaultniers.

LOVE IS AN ANSWER

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Love?
It's the thing,
You want most,
Wonder about most,
Fall in most.
Why?
Why do we make
Such a mess of the thing
We most desire?
Because we don't know
What it's all about—
Don't even know
When or why it starts.

You say—
"I fell in love
With Mary at that dance"—
Or—"I fell in love
With Bill"
But you're wrong;
You didn't
Fall in love then.
As a matter of fact,
You never "fell in love"—
Love doesn't happen
Like that.

Love doesn't start
At a certain time,
Or in a certain place,
Or with a certain person.
Love starts
When we start—
At our birth
We begin to love
When we begin to live.
Love is
The result of living.

Love isn't
An accident—
Love is
A consequence.

You are
What you make yourself;
Love is also
What you make it.

Love isn't
The way you feel
About another
Man or woman—
Love is the way
You feel about everything.
Love is the way
You feel about
Work and play,
Danger and safety,
Comfort and discomfort,
Beauty and ugliness,
Triumph and failure,
Wealth and poverty,
City streets
And country soil,
Criticism and flattery,
Food and bedding,
Clothes and possessions,
Love is the way
You feel about
Yourself and Your Life—
Your Country—
Other People—
Life and Death—
And God.

Love isn't something
Outside you.
Love is something
Inside you.

Love is
Something inside you—
Something yearning,
Turning,
Reaching out
Or retreating.
Love is
Your own need,
Your own fear,
Your own life-long dream
Trying to find
Answer and healing.

When you "fall in love"
You aren't really looking
For another person—
You aren't really loving
Another person—
You are looking
For an answer
To your own need
Your own dream—
You are loving
The answer,
Of what you think
Is the answer
To your dream.

Why do we make
Such a mess of love?
That's why!
We fall in love
Because we try
To make a person
Fit the pattern
Of something
Inside ourselves—
The pattern
Of our own dream—
And then get mad
And punish them,
And complain that
We've been cheated,
If they don't fit.

Love
Doesn't cheat us—
We cheat love.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—Arline Gould says that it's possible to successfully disguise grey streaks in hair which once was such a problem, the blonde or light shades . . if you use a remarkable retouch crayon she describes. Virginia Vale shows a new coiffure treatment, with hair ends pinned firmly into a figure eight.

NEW RETOUCHING CRAYON SOLVES GREY HAIR ISSUE

By ARLINE GOULD

THEY SAY YOU'LL "never know until you try" . . . and among the few thousand things we can think of suddenly to which this would apply . . . is the matter of discovering that the latest, modern retouch crayon for a complete disguise of greying hair is absolutely no relation to the old-style crayons which ran, matted and tattled about those aging streaks.

If you've greyed mostly at the temples, then the whole thing is a cinch, of course. With a light touch you can brush away the grey, and the scattering of lone white hairs that remains won't be noticed at all.

This new retouching crayon has a great many distinctive features about it, quite probably because the house which produced it has one of the world's finest research laboratories devoted to hair and dyeing problems. The crayon may stave off the necessity for dyeing your hair forever! To use in between trips to the hairdresser for regular dye jobs, it's a little marvel that keeps your secret.

It's not a dye . . . it washes off with the shampoo . . . and for greater ease of application it has a brush built in through the middle so when the edges wear off, the brush instead of blunt crayon emerges.

Unlike the less satisfactory type of crayon which is rubbed on dry, this one is moistened slightly. This means you won't pencil it into your scalp, and just a light touch with the moistened crayon distributes the color evenly. Before your eyes the grey will disappear. Then you just fold back the crayon into its smart little case, which looks like a lipstick, and tuck it into your handbag if you wish.

Since the case is so functional and simple, a man would certainly not object to having it among his bathroom cabinet paraphernalia. And it most certainly is the perfect answer for him too in the matter of disguising age-betokening grey.

There are 12 natural shades, which range from lightest blonde (once an impossible color to duplicate) . . . and the price is $1, refills 50c.

To learn about this grey-disguising retouch crayon, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening, American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

EVEN IN A WORLD AT WAR, Cupid holds court on Valentine's Day. You'll find that the most bashful beau in the service will wax eloquent if you remember him with a Valentine box of cookies and candies. They needn't be the kind that require much fussing over though, or a great of your precious time to prepare either, for the most delicious goodies can be made today in the quickest time imaginable. The secret is in using sweetened condensed milk.

Since these recipes will take so little of your time, you can afford to be generous, for service men like to share home-made treats with their buddies without going on short rations themselves. These cookies and candies will carry well and may be protected against crushing by putting crumpled waxed paper on layers.

CHOCOLATE CRUMB COOKIES

2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1 1-3 cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
Dash of salt
½ cup chopped nut meats
24 walnut or pecan halves (optional)

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add milk and stir over rapidly boiling water 5 minutes until mixture thickens. Add bread crumbs, salt, and nut meats. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Press half a nut meat into each cookie, if desired. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 10 minutes, or until brown. Remove from pan at once. Makes about 24 cookies.

COCOANUT MACAROONS

2-3 cup (7½ oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
3 cups (½ lb.) shredded cocoanut
1 tsp. vanilla (optional)

Mix milk and cocoanut. Add vanilla, if desired. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet, about 1 inch apart. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 10 minutes, or until a delicate brown. Remove from pan at once. Makes about 30 macaroons.

MOLASSES BROWNIES

1 1-3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
¼ cup molasses
2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1 cup chopped nut meats

Blend together the milk and molasses in a heavy pan and cook over low flame 5 minutes or until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add graham cracker crumbs and chopped nut meats, blending thoroughly. Spread mixture in pan (8 x 12 inches), lined with waxed paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 15 minutes, or until brown. Turn from pan and remove paper at once. Cut in 2-inch squares. Makes 24 brownies.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS

3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 1-3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
½ cup corn syrup
Few grains salt
½ cup chopped nut meats, if desired
1 tsp. vanilla

Melt chocolate in heavy shallow pan. Add milk, corn syrup, and salt. Cook slowly, over low heat, stirring constantly until firm ball forms when tested in cold water (approximately 20 minutes). Remove from fire, add chopped nut meats and vanilla. Pour at once into buttered pan (8 x 8 inches). When cold remove from pan and cut into squares.

MOLASSES COCOANUT CHEWS

2-3 cup sweetened condensed milk
¼ cup molasses
Few grains salt
1 cup shredded cocoanut

Cook milk, molasses and salt together in a heavy pan. Stir over low heat until hard ball forms when tested in cold water. Add cocoanut and stir until well mixed. Drop by spoonfuls on buttered pan to cool. Makes 24 pieces.

GOOD HOSTESS?

The young woman who is well liked by her contemporaries is the one who is as good as a hostess as she is as a guest. The girl who accepts invitations but never reciprocates is socially selfish.

Fashion

HERE'S A RENEWAL of the feeling for simpler lines . . . which has almost been snowed under by haremish or fluffy themes. And it's done to perfection in a brand new fabric of that expanding, important family of jersies. It has all the fluidity of sleek-finished acetate rayon jersey, all the marvelous figure flattery that goes with it, but the surface is sandy-textured and dull. Cording is beautifully and simply used around the neckline and the deep armholes. And a nice effect is the insertion of a little soft drape above as well as below the belt. To wear it in a deepened pastel is to capture a nice little feeling that perhaps you have been south after all——ANNICE BRINK

HAT THAT RESEMBLES HAIR IS LATEST IDEA

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE terrible struggle of milliners to persuade the girls of this country to wear hats goes on, and the hat makers are resorting to all kinds of wiles and strategy to win out. They've done their best to coax the girls with sweetness in millinery, and I've observed another ruse lately, which is to make hats look like hair. That way, the hat designers must figure, you get the flattery your hair would give you, and the protection of a hat, too.

Anyway, one of the best of this type is the John Frederics model sketched by Miss Dulin. Made of long wool fringe, this very new millinery model hangs around your head and shoulders like long hair. It comes in all the colors and it keeps the hair in place, and gives you protection from chill pre-spring winds.

The same kind of thing can be worn later on, made of cotton or rayon or fantasie fringe.

HISTORY REPEATS itself in the case of Lady Ward of London who comes to Boston this week to be guest of honor at a luncheon given by the workshop division of the British War Relief Society . . .

During the last war Lady Ward was engaged in war relief work with the late William Endicott of Boston, and this week Mr. Endicott's widow, who is chairman of the British Workshop division, will have the pleasure of introducing the distinguished visitor to luncheon guests . . .

An American by birth, Lady Ward is the daughter of the late Whitelaw Reid, former American ambassador to the Court of St. James . . Her home at Dudley House, Park Lane, London, where British War Relief goods were sent from this country, was destroyed by bombs last year, but in spite of tremendous handicaps she has carried on her work at the Personal Service League, London headquarters for relief material sent from America.

The luncheon will be held on Wednesday at the Women's Republican Club . . . Guests will include chairmen of the various workshops and the luncheon hostesses will be Mrs. Gardiner H. Fiske, Mrs. Ellery Sedgwick, Mrs. John S. Ames, Mrs. Robert B. Choate, Mrs. Richard E. Danielson, Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, Mrs. William T. Aldrich, Mrs. Gaspar G. Bacon, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Jr., Mrs. Harvey H. Bundy, Mrs. James F. Clarke, Mrs. Charles E. Cheever, Mrs. William S. Febiger, Mrs. John L. Hall, Mrs. Robert H. Morris, and Mrs. Richard P. Strong . . .

Bella Grandin, wearing a sporty hat fashioned with a sweeping upturned brim of bright blue felt and a snug black crown . . . Mrs. Horace Binney not missing a word except perhaps a few of Louis Cons' broken English inflexions . . . He's a Frenchman and since many of the association members belong to the Alliance Francaise where only French is spoken, they wished that he had lectured in his mother tongue . . .

Arthur Dehon Hill, sitting directly in front of the speakers' table, and William Roger Greeley, the architect, accompanied by his daughter Ellen, interpreting Mr. Cons for their tablemates . . . Dr. Waltstill Sharp of Wellesley, and Dr. Robert Dexter, both of whom have been engaged in refugee work in France, were particularly interested in the information supplied by Varian Fry, the first speaker, who has just returned from a year in unoccupied France . . .

OUR DAILY CITATION: To Cardinal O'Connell for his patriotic letter read from every pulpit in the archdiocese in which he urged increased support by all for the United War Fund Campaign. His plea for sacrifices by everybody to make the drive a success was a fine contribution to our war effort.

HOW closely the Philippines have become an integral part of the United States is revealed by a report of the Commerce Department.

This report will also reveal to those who have questioned the value of our holding on to these islands just what the two peoples mean to one another in material benefits.

Last October alone NINETY-FOUR PER CENT of the total exports from the Philippines came to this country.

For the first nine months of 1941, EIGHTY PER CENT of imports into the Philippines came from the U. S. A.

How startlingly small is the trade of the Philippines with the rest of Asia is brought to light in the department's statement that in 1940 only 5.6 per cent of her exports went to Japan and only 1.2 per cent to China. Nearly EIGHTY-THREE PER CENT went to the United States.

Proving once again how little the Philippines have in common with Japan and how close she is to us, in 1940 out of $134,730,000 of materials and goods imported into the Philippines ONLY 4.5 per cent originated in Japan and SEVENTY-EIGHT PER CENT came from us.

In 1940 also the United States had $156,800,000 invested in the Philippine Islands, while the islands had $67,800,000 invested here.

The department's figures also show that in 1940 and 1941 (for nine months of the latter year) the exports to the islands from the U. S. A. and the imports into the U. S. A. from the islands were increasing by leaps and bounds—measured in millions of dollars.

The Department of Commerce says that the "Philippines show a growing dependence upon the United States as a market as well as a source of supply."

That the Filipinos have been satisfied with our stewardship and rely on our promises of ultimate independence is seen in the way they are standing to a man behind General MacArthur and Old Glory.

It, then, all adds up to this:

1—That the Japanese have no business or rights of any kind in the Philippines.

2—The Filipinos will not even trade with them to any appreciable extent.

3—The Japanese are trying to wrest from us and the Filipinos by brutal force what the Americans and Filipinos have built up in the useful and beneficent ways of trade and mutual trust.

4—By all standards of human rights the Philippines belong to the United States AND the Filipinos.

5—No island in all the broad Pacific has EVER called on Japan to "save" it.

6—The Pacific Ocean is, from Australia to Alaska, American and British waters.

Japan is now the ROVING THIEF OF THE PACIFIC.

She may conquer the Philippines for a brief time, but she cannot hold them because both the Filipinos and the Americans have said NO.

AS A NECESSARY defense measure, the United States Government requires that all aliens of German, Italian or Japanese nationality, and of the age of fourteen years or older, shall apply at their nearest postoffices between February 9 and February 28 for certificates of identification.

Printed instructions may be obtained at all postoffices now.

Aliens of good intentions should not object to this process.

Directed at those whose intentions are not good, the order must apply to all in order to distinguish between the two kinds.

Furthermore, this war-time registration of aliens in America is no more rigorous than the peace-time registration of ALL aliens in other countries.

Consequently, there should be no objection to the Government's order, but rather a willing compliance with it.

THE WAR-TIME problems affecting all of us now include the definite prospect of sugar-rationing within a short time. But it's nothing to get worried about.

Even if our Philippine sugar resources are cut off, more than enough sugar remains from Hawaiian, Cuban, Puerto Rican and domestic sources. Rationing will make certain that no one hoards sugar.

The Government assures us there'll be enough to go around.

It's just one more reason for tightening our belts—this rationing problem—and getting down to the grim business of seeing this war through and winning it.

THE FIRST-RATE entertainment being provided gratis for soldiers, sailors, and marines on furlough by Boston's "Keep 'Em Smiling" campaign has given our city a position of undisputed leadership in hospitable relations with the service men.

Sponsored by Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty and the police, the campaign has gladdened the hearts of nearly 20,000 of our armed forces in a period of a few short weeks. Yet, we are assured, this is only a sample of what is to be done. It is not only a good sample but a good example.

On The Side

-s- -s- By E. V. DURLING

He can return who flies
Not so with him who dies.
—PAUL SCARRON.

SAID CERVANTES: "To retire is not to flee, and there is no wisdom in waiting when danger outweighs hope, and it is the part of wise men to preserve themselves today for tomorrow; and not risk all in one day." It is indeed a smart fellow who knows when to retreat and how much. Gene Tunney retreated after J. Dempsey had sent him down for that long count in Chicago. And he came back to win. What is true of men is usually true of armies. It is a mistake to place too much importance on the fact that an army has retreated.

TODAY I met a steam fitter who told me that for eight nights' work he had been paid $181.40 and he showed me the vouchers to prove it. These are indeed the golden days for skilled workers . . . "Would Your Husband Remarry You?" is title of an article I saw a young woman reading. She seemed a little worried. How about you, lady? Do you think your husband would pick you for a wife again after he knows nearly all about you? . . . Fancy statistic says women lose a million single gloves a year. Very interesting. Now I would like to know how many handbags and automobile keys the girls lose annually. As for losing the single gloves, there are now gloves made that fit either hand. So if a woman loses a glove she only has to buy one new glove and not a pair.

SAYS HE: "Having had two wives, both well-trained," writes a Detroiter, "I feel my views on wife-training may be of value. The training of a wife should begin not later than two weeks after marriage. Any further delay on the part of the husband in the matter of asserting himself and establishing his command over the household is fatal."

PASSING BY: Ralph Slater. Hypnotist. Believes hypnotism can be used to cure stuttering, stammering, insomnia or smoking. He could be right. However, I do not stutter or stammer or have insomnia. And I certainly do not want to be cured of smoking . . . Katharine Hepburn. It is said Miss Hepburn's figure is the ideal one for wearing slacks, a uniform or a mink coat. Have you ever thought of how few tall feminine film stars there were in the silent cinema era? In those days the cute, little tricks like Mary Pickford, Marguerite Clarke, Gloria Swanson, Mae Murray and Viola Dana were all the rage.

ADDED DETAILS: Gold wedding rings seem the most impressive to me . . . Reader says she was born on June 11 and so was her husband, her aunt and her nephew. Tops I have heard of in same birthdays in one family is that of three brothers in Arizona all born on December 25 in different years . . . In St. Petersburg, Fla., a young fellow named Columbus drew 1492 as his draft number . . . Bitterly complains a young woman of Manhattan: "If a man hasn't what it takes to arouse a woman's interest, does he blame himself? Absolutely not. He goes around saying the woman is a cold fish."

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Vivienne Segal has had the same maid for 16 years. Maybe Vivienne should write that book which seems so greatly needed, namely: "How to Keep a Maid" . . . "The law of compensation gives us from life what we put into it." So states one of those solvers of life problems for the puzzled. The statement is not altogether true. I know several people who have given life their best; and who have always been energetic, kind, charitable, tolerant and loyal. And all they have received in return is a lot of grief . . . The woman who puts in a supply of silk or nylon stockings at once will be doing a smart thing. This time there is going to be a silk and nylon stocking shortage and no fooling . . . From a resident of Delano, Kern County, Cal.: "The Democrats of our town pronounce the name of it Del-a-no and the Republicans say it is De-lay-no."

VIOLA DANA
Cute Star of Silent Film Era

PLEASE NOTE: Bittersweet 4000 is a Chicago telephone number. There may somewhere in the country be a telephone exchange with a quainter name than Bittersweet, but what is it? . . . Says Groucho Marx: "The sooner women take over the management of the world the better. Women are wonderful people. My mother was a woman" . . . A Wisconsin tonsorialist says the average wage for barbers in his state is $18 a week. "And if we get a tip," he adds, "it is something we feel like framing under glass" . . . "You dope," writes a kindly Albany, N. Y., subscriber, "Don't you know the slogan of Rae Samuels was not 'the blue streak of ragtime' but 'the blue streak of vaudeville!'" My story still is that Miss Samuel's original slogan was "the blue streak of ragtime." And when ragtime went out of style she changed it to "the blue streak of vaudeville."

ASIDES: The Duchess of Windsor is 5 feet, 3½ inches tall. The Duke is the same height . . . On all seats in Westminster Abbey is a notice: "In the event of an air raid alarm the congregation is requested to leave with all due reverent haste" . . . "The more haste, the less speed" is particularly apt when you are typing. Is for me anyhow. Still I can really develop some speed on a typewriter for a user of the "pick and peck" system . . . some husbands address their wives as "sweet." This seems an awkward, affected and unoriginal term of endearment to me. I even like "darling" better . . . Mrs. Bob Hope. One of the smartest looking of the film colony's young matrons. Mrs. Hope has two lovely children, two luxurious autos, a genial husband, a station wagon, two pet goldfish and a mink coat . . . Alan Curtis. Husband of Ilona Massey who is Hollywood's second most beautiful blonde. On a gift to his wife shortly after their marriage Mr. Curtis wrote: "Nunc scio quid sit amor" which means "now I know what love is."

POP SENDS DOROTHY HONOLULU NEWS

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—Among the persons I would least expect to meet in a chichi, crepe de chine supper club, Clifford Odets—that old stalwart of the Group Theater and caresser of the downtrodden, underprivileged and overpersecuted—would be my choice for "most likely to be absent." And yet of recent evenings at the Ruban Bleu and 1-2-3, modest little meccas of the chic clique, I have seen Mr. Odets enjoying himself right out in the open.

At the 1-2-3 he exchanged eye-lifters with Tallulah Bankhead, who introduced him to the proprietor as "my writer." And he seemed quite comfy in the super-capitalistic surroundings.

TALLULAH BANKHEAD

Now I'm not censoring or even teasing Mr. Odets, understand. Mr. Odets is his own boss and big enough to know what he wants and I'd never think of raising a finger to stop him, but what goes? Is he having a change of heart about the upper crust? Or is he merely nibbling on it to absorb some of its vices and then transcribe them with fury to the printed page? I wouldn't know, but I see some light-hearted puns coming as Clifford puts down his glass by night.

Can't you envision some prankish midnighter coming over to his table and saying in the spirit of fun: "Odets, where is thy stinger?"

HOW THE LATE Ring Lardner would have gone to town on some of the new patriotic tunes. They mean well, of course (well, they mean to sell a million or so copies), but they do lend themselves almost eagerly to satire . . . "King size" seems to be on the skids as a descriptive phrase. The other day I saw a drugstore advertising "Senior Hamburgers."

I HAVE JUST received a letter from my favorite war correspondent, Jim Kilgallen of INS, who reports on night life in Honolulu.

"You wouldn't recognize Hawaii," he says. "We have martial law. We have as severe a blackout as any place in the world. No liquor can be sold. No one allowed on the streets at night unless on business. We go over to the Federal Building to file our stories and we are likely to be stopped in the darkness three or four times by armed guards with bayonets. When they cry "Halt," you halt, pronto.

"We have a curfew, 6 p. m.

"Lawns and front yards have bomb shelters. Every home has a blackout room where the family congregates at night. Night life is out, not a single place open. No dancing except at the entertainments given for the soldiers and sailors every Saturday afternoon by "The Ladies of the Flying Squadron," comprised of 200 local girls.

"The famed Royal Hawaiian hotel has been taken over completely by the Navy. You never see more than two or three automobiles along the streets at night and they proceed slowly, their headlights dimmed a faint blue.

"A CUTE little business, reminiscent of Broadway, has cropped up. An ex-soldier has a couple of Hawaiian girls who pose with soldiers and sailors in a downtown open air photo studio. The pictures look very romantic as the soldier boy poses with a Hawaiian 'Princess' in a shredded skirt. They kneel together on a sprinkling of sand before a straw hut.

"The pictures may make some of the boys' girl friends back home shed a tear or shriek in rage but they really shouldn't worry; the 'Princess,' who is 24, told me she is happily married to the owner of the place and has three lovely children.

"When a ship bearing U. S. troops from the mainland arrived at Honolulu the other day the boys were surprised at seeing so many dark-skinned territorial guards, including Japanese. Exclaimed one of the soldiers: 'Gee whiz—we're too late!'

"The visiting reporters from New York are leading the simplest life in years. The regular nightly procedure is bridge in the blackout room. The boys can't get a drink unless by accident they are guests in some home where there may be a little liquor available. Most popular residents are those with a bottle or two. As for me, I'm getting adept at CONTRACT bridge."

I searched the envelope pop's letter came in very carefully for a picture of pop and one of those Hawaiian princesses in the shredded skirts. But no sign of it. I guess he just went down to that photo studio to observe the armed forces.

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MUSINGS: Lieut. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., travels light these days . . . The bare necessities bulged his battered suitcase and young Frank, as handsome an officer as Uncle Sam's Navy holds, wasn't carrying even a spare handkerchief . . . He pledged this column to silence on the subject of his entering the Brooklyn Naval Hospital, for a possible appendectomy, but the wire services relayed the story from New York . . . (I had the Navy's official sanction then) . . . Lieut. Roosevelt found his shore-legs at the Ritz-Carlton, where his close friend, Ed Wyner, put his own quarters at the young man's disposal . . . The two then visited backstage with Eddie Duchin at the Keith-Boston . . . After Duchin's last show they watched the show at The Mayfair.

DUCHIN'S RENDITION OF "STORMY WEATHER" is the best item in the band's repertory, in this opinion . . . Eddie's well-known virtuosity at the piano sparkles while he skips over the keyboard in setting the rhythm for the classic lament . . . He, himself, admits that "Stormy Weather" has served him well . . . It is a coincidence which emphasizes the tremendous value of a great popular tune that Ethel Waters, whose name will be in the Keith-Boston lights when Duchin's is taken down, finds "Stormy Weather" her greatest number . . . Ethel, as everybody knows, introduced the song . . . But Maestro Duchin has played it so beautifully (and often) that it has become the leading "request" number both for Duchin solo, and Duchin with band.

MISS WATERS HAS TOLD THE STORY of "Stormy Weather" before, but it's always interesting . . . There is a legend in show business that actors are such poor judges of shows that producers wax uneasy when the cast is confident . . . Miss Waters confirms another truism, namely, that you can't always tell a song hit at first hearing.

"'STORMY WEATHER' WAS WRITTEN for a Cotton Club floor-show and we thought it was just one of those character songs," she remembers . . . "We figured it would be good for a floor-number, but not much else . . . The first night we put it on—WHAM! The customers wouldn't let me off the floor . . . It was just tremendous . . . It surely helped me, because when the song became a great hit, people just naturally thought of Ethel Waters . . . When I did a radio show with Jack Denny's orchestra later, everyone connected with the series demanded that I make 'Stormy Weather' my theme-song."

DUKE ELLINGTON ETHEL WATERS

Old Favorites Return to Town This Week

SPEAKING OF SONGS, that ungrammatical epic to words and music, "I Got it Bad an' That Ain't Good" will be interpreted by its composer, the inimitable Duke Ellington, in the same show with Miss Waters . . . The Duke wrote the song as a number for a Hollywood harlequinade called "Jump For Joy" . . . Although the song was written (and the show produced) last summer, the song only recently became one of the first 10 . . . That title, "Jump For Joy," was an inspiration growing out of a sociable gathering in the home of Sid Kuller, a movie writer . . . Mickey Rooney, Jackie Cooper, Jack Teagarden, Manny Klein and Artie Shaw were among the five addicts present, and when another member of the jazz cognoscenti came in, he looked the gang over and exclaimed: "It looks as if the joint were jumping!" . . . "Yeah," said some one else, "it's jumpin' for joy" . . . The title resulted.

"JUMP FOR JOY" featured Duke Ellington, of course, and was written, cast and angeled in three weeks . . . Joe Pasternak, who used to be Deanna Durbin's producer, was one of the backers . . . (Deanna arrived today, by the way) . . . Little was heard of the Ellington show in the East, but it played 12 weeks at the Mayan Theater in Los Angeles . . . Ellington intends to assemble it again when he returns to the Coast in March . . . Colored actors satirize Noel Coward and William Saroyan plays, and the Ellington band says the result is hilarious. And the music is really hot.

NEW FILM PICKED FOR BETTY FIELD

By Louella O. Parsons

Betty Field

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9 Betty Field will have until April to honeymoon with Elmer Rice and then she is reporting at Paramount. She has agreed to forget about the stage and co-star with Joel McCrea in "Triumph over Pain,' the next Preston Sturges picture. It must be two years since I first wrote that Paramount had bought the rights to Rene Fullop Muller's book, but the picture was never made—I suppose because of all the controversy over the hero, Dr. Robert Morton, a Boston dentist. Muller gives him credit for having discovered the first anaesthesia in his effort to make dentistry less painful. At the time, I was bombarded with letters from doctors, dentists and non-professionals, challenging my statement. In any event the picture will be made and Sturges will seek to show that Morton was never paid a cent and was never given his due honor.

THE DETECTIVE ROLE in "Broadway," with George Raft, brings back memories to Pat O'Brien. Over the week-end Bruce Manning signed him without knowing that Pat had played this same role for 38 weeks with the stage company in Chicago. It was during the run of the play that Pat met his wife, Eloise, who was one of the beautiful chorus girls. So far no leading woman is set for this yarn which Bill Seiter directs—but little Anne Gwynne gets the second femme part—that of the hard-boiled chorus girl.

KAY FRANCIS returns from Arizona tomorrow. She's been in the desert trying to get rid of a colo that hung on for days. She reports at Universal for the glamorous mother role in "Boy Meets Baby," the Henry Koster picture in which Bob Cummings has the male lead. So far the juvenile femme lead has not been chosen. Universal seems to be having a lot of casting trouble, what with "Broadway" and this one.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Lana Turner's twenty-first birthday Sunday was plenty exciting. First, because it was rumored she and Tommy Dorsey had eloped. But apparently the Dorsey romance is cold, for Lana is now seeing Buddy Rich, drummer in Tommy Dorsey's band, and Dorsey is entertaining Betty Hutton. Artie Shaw, Lana's ex, and Irene Lee, Warner's story editor, are aflame; Herta Margo, refugee actress, and Frederick K. Stevenson of Garden City, Long Island, will wed shortly; Dorothy Lamour and Bently Ryan, partner of her former heart beat, Greg Bautzer, dining at the Brown Derby; Sophie Gimbel, one of New York's smartest women and chief creator of the styles for her husband's stores, the guest of the Milton Brens and the Darryl Zanucks at the Bundles for Bluejackets dinner; saw Lili Damita with a hat tied under her chin and very chic. That's all for today. See you tomorrow! But Mrs. Joseph Celotti, Jr., of San Mateo, Cal., says: "Buy defense bonds and play taps for the Japs."

RIO-CASINO FEATURES TWO SPARKLING REVUES

By SAM BERENSON

Held over for one more week at the attractive Rio Casino is that superb show-smash, "Adrift in New York," and it's no false step in the direction of this gay parlor. Further applause to the Casino for the return of that lovely dancing line, as pretty a one-two-three-kick group as can be found hereabouts. Curtain upping on "Adrift" at 9. Twice nightly for the other show, at 7:30 and 11:30.

A brisk round of applause to Miss Eleanor Martin, whose dancing is one of the features of the Cocoanut Grove soirees . . . not only a definite charmer, but a lady of smooth terpsichorean talent . . . Fay and Wellington are at their best here . . . Come sundown at the Rhumba Casino of the Fox & Hounds and this suave hostelry is further graced by a line of dancing lassies who should add no end to the joys of dropping in here . . . top-flight, these lovelies, direct from the Manhattan clubs . . . music here at by the Charlie Wolke band, who, incidentally, is doing a marvelous job of baton-swishing . . . Deone Parrish continues to be a bright and lovely allure for your door-tapping at Fred Sorocco's Vanity Fair

That accent on swing continues at the Bermuda Terrace of the Hotel Brunswick, when Clyde Lucas brings his horn-blowers in for a date that rates high on your after-dusk program . . . And equally strong emphasis for your hoe-down pleasure on the Tommy Tucker crew currently beating it out at the suave Copley Plaza . . . Rolf Passer continues to amaze finds the bowing in of another fine show styled for your entertainment pleasure . . . and to genial Joe Waganbach our congratulations for bringing this brand of revue talent to his Waganbach . . . Dorgan's Old Harbor House pops up with another of its colorful floor attractions

Manager Harry Sher has expressed himself as being very happy with the manner in which the public greeted his seventh anniversary week last week and announces that the new type of entertainment he inaugurated in the Blue Terrace Room for the occasion will be extended throughout the month . . . Ribby's Allston Cafe merits a note of praise for the rapid-fire action always raring to go .

At the Essex Grill, there's beauty here that's definitely eye-opening . . . and coupled with those three gay shows, the nimble-tongued emceeing of Billy Kelly, and a pair of bands . . . Ruby Foo's Den, where thoughtful preparation of those Chinese dishes makes these relicacies a never-ending thrill.

Returning to the Crawford House with her talented tassels this evening is the one and only, folks, the original and inimitable Sally Keith, queen of quiver, who returns to this parlor will again find ye olde Crawfordery jam-packed . . . and tassel-tossing in its gayest manner . . . Bob Appleton's Circus Room at the Bradford hotel shapes up as smooth dropping-in . . . an atmospheric parolr which this town more and more is taking to its fancy . . . The town's Beachcomer swings merrily along with those bright island-styled shows that warrant this spot so much favorable attention from the sit-up folk

It's a bright new show that comes swirling into Blinstrub's Village, merriest of the South Boston salons . . . for a star-studded cast of Manhattan talen speeds through the night in brilliant fashion to give patrons one of the gayest of shows . . . Featured are Artini and Consuelo, Nick and Vicki Collins, Ada and her pals . . . : emcee Boyd Heathen and the music-making of Peter Bodge . . . the Spotlite, a mighty delightful parlor, where a banner cast is always set for brisk entertainment

Ya know, last week's snowfall got me feelin' like a boy again an' I went over on the Common an' thrun some snowballs wid the result I thrun my arm out an' can't even scratch my bald spot!

The way things is gettin' scarce, I gotta feelin' the barter system is jest around the corner. What'll ya swap for some Chanel number 5?

How do ya like that gal out in Missouri what hadda girdle vulcanized last week? The way things is goin' I'm keepin' all broken rubber bands for the same treatment!

Who's got Tobruk today? I ain't seen a paper for several hours!

Last Friday I had some visitors what included H. K. Minsky, the feller what put burlesque on Broadway or wuz it the other way 'round? He was in wid a coupla comics called Murray Leonard and Benny "Wop" Moore, an' old pal of mine. We hadda lotta laffs wid Don Rice, too.

What a lotta headaches there could be in a blackout! I have a scheme for people what misplace their china choppers by fixin' 'em wid a clock spring so they go "clack, clack" every thirty seconds. Wid a minor adjustment, they could serve as a mouse trap!

Jest a reminder about defense bonds; a defense bond is a shot in the arm to Uncle Sam an' a shot in the arm to Uncle Sam means a shot in the pants to the Japs!

British Hold Better Libya Supply Lanes

By MAJOR GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

The ebb and flow of the struggle for North Africa is largely the matter of supply and maintenance.

The latter problem, maintenance, is one that is becoming increasingly important in this highly mechanized war that is not yet taken fully into account, even by well – informed observers.

Maj. G. F. Eliot

When success depends to a great extent upon large numbers of complicated machines, such as tanks, armored cars and airplanes the efficiency of the arrangements for the maintenance of the machines may make a great deal of difference in the result on the battlefield.

The Germans appear to have a better maintenance machine than anything the British have so far been able to work out, and this has given them a considerable advantage. As far as supplies are concerned the British have a basic advantage in the fact that they have Egypt at their back, with their sea lanes open to England and the United States. For Australia and India, however, the distances are enormous and the Far Eastern campaign is making heavy demands upon available shipping. Hence the British are now having difficulty.

PROBLEM TO GERMANS

The Germans have their problem of getting their supplies across the Mediterranean and Italy. The distance is very short. They do not have command of the sea except insofar as they can give some protection to their convoys by the use of aircraft and submarines. The principal thorn in their side is the British base at Malta, from which all aircraft and light naval craft can range all over the waters between Sicily and Africa.

There is also to be considered the probability that the British have weakened their airforce in the Middle East, at least temporarily, in order to re-enforce Singapore and have also sent some troops and armored fighting vehicles eastward replacing them with troops from the United Kingdom who in turn have been replaced, to some extent, by the new American Expeditionary Force that has recently landed in Northern Ireland.

BRITISH HAMPERED

As long as the Germans can maintain the threat and nuisance value of their position in Libya the British cannot have that full freedom of action in the Middle Eastern area as a whole which they seek.

On the other hand nothing less than an advance upon Alexandria and Suez would represent a real victory for the Germans.

'THE SHANGHAI GESTURE' WILL HAVE PREMIERE AT LOEW'S ON THURSDAY

Bevy of Stars In Film's Cast

Al Woods' sensational stage production, "The Shanghai Gesture," opulently transferred to the screen by Producer Arnold Pressburger, is to have its local premiere on Thursday at Loew's State and Orpheum theaters.

For its stars, it has Gene Tierney and Victor Mature, rated in the press-books as "the hottest young players in pictures." Their supporting cast offers names that are something to goggle at, to wit: Walter Huston, one of the finest actors on stage and screen; Ona Munson, whose Belle Watling in "Gone With the Wind" will not soon be forgotten; Maria Ouspenskaya, a great artist whose every portrayal is a masterpiece; Albert Basserman, another splendid performer whose skill has saved many an otherwise so-so film; Eric Blore, also a featured player who has done his share of picture-saving, and Phyllis Brooks, who's a sight for sore eyes in any picture.

The only radical digression from John Colton's famous play concerns a pivotal part written into the script for that "beautiful hunk of man," Victor Mature. In the film version he becomes a romantic Arab mystic, unscrupulous, fascinating.

As is to be expected from a von Sternberg-directed picture, lavish sets provide the background for "The Shanghai Gesture." One of the most spectacular is the casino operated by Mother Gin Sling (Ona Munson). This casino is the ultra den of Shanghai, meeting place for derelict and slummer. It is here Mother Gin Sling gives an elaborate dinner during the Chinese New Year walled in by 3000 square feet of mirror on which the noted Chinese artist, Keye Luke, painted more than 750 figures.

The co-feature, "Mr. and Mrs. North," is Hollywood's version of the stage play the Hub saw recently and stars Gracie Allen with Paul Kelly, Rose Hobart, Virginia Grey, Tom Conway, Felix Bressart and Stewart Crawford.

'Louisiana Purchase' To Return in March

Early in March, at a theater to be announced later, Buddy De Sylva will present "Louisiana Purchase," his enormously popular musical comedy with a book of which he is co-author and a musical score by Cole Porter. William Gaxton, Victor Moore, Vera Zonina and Irene Bordoni will continue in their original roles.

Diane Rowland Reigns at Globe

The Globe stage is currently lavish with lovelies, not the least of these being the orb-rewarding Diane Rowland, Crystal Ames, of the see-through drapes; Dolores Dawn and Leona Lewis.

They and the 30 Bernardolls, with their diverting terpsichore ensembles, offer the unusual and sensational in dance-steps in this week's burlesque show.

Broadway's Dick Richards, comedian, heads the parade of funnymen dividing honors with the cuticle cuties in the big, new traveling stage attraction. Supporting him are George Lewis, Bob Taylor and singing Jack Coyle, vaudeville's Rio and Rita, novelty music-makers, Dot Deering, acrobatic dancer; Marrone and Gallo, adagio dancers, and Kelly and Hayes, singing comedians, are importantly spotted.

MRS. ROOSEVELT SAYS: Exclusive

War Jobs Aid People on Project

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

WASHINGTON, Sunday—Our day in Arthurdale, W. Va., on Friday was really very satisfactory. Our object was to be there for the giving of contracts to the people who qualified to purchase their houses and land.

We arrived in time for lunch and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who was there all morning, had time to go over to Scott's Run to see the community house there. She was delighted to find that the young couple directing the work now have a very busy little lending library, a well furnished kitchen used by all groups, and a charming apartment which serves as a model for all the people up and down the run. They have worked so hard and been so earnest in their desire to help in that region, I am delighted to have this good report on what they are doing.

In the afternoon, we visited the NYA project, where boys were studying radio work, welding, sheetmetal work and woodworking. We saw their infirmary and the community building, which they have done over for their own use as well as that of the community. The boys come from all parts of West Virginia and are a fine group of youngsters.

Some of them have already gone to work in one of the factories at Scott's Run which makes radio cabinets. It seems to be flourishing and Mr. Kahn is proud of his achievements.

THE INN is very attractive and I always enjoy my stay there. We had a very good dinner after the advisory committee meeting in the late afternoon, and then went over to the ceremonies. Congressman Jennings Randolph, Mr. Clarence Pickett and I, who have all been interested in the project since the beginning, said a few words of congratulation before handing out the contracts with our good wishes to the couples who were able to come up and get them. Some men are now working on the night shift and could not be there.

In one case, the son in the family had to come for the contract, because his mother was in the hospital and his father was at work. War work has brought larger incomes to many people on the project, but last year their gardens were better than ever before and we hope they will continue to take an interest in improving their land.

WE TOOK the night train back to Washington. Yesterday I shook hands with a large group of high school students before going to the Office of Civilian Defense for the rest of the morning. At lunch, I had a number of young newsboys, who had come to Washington to receive their awards from the Treasury Department, for having sold a large number of defense savings stamps.

Seek Kin of Boy Hurt In Stolen Car Crash

Roxbury Crossing police today sought relatives of a 16-year-old boy tentatively identified from a card in his pocket as Raymond Rowe, on the danger list at City Hospital as the result of a stolen car crash in Cedar st., Roxbury.

Police said two autos, both stolen, were racing along the street and collided when one swerved to avoid a car backing out of a driveway. Three youths fled from the wreck but the boy thought to be named Rowe was found lying unconscious nearby.

20 Buildings Razed In Philadelphia Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9 (AP)—An eight-alarm fire, one of the worst in this city's history, raged through a "Y" shaped block of stores and homes in the northwest section.

One person was feared burned to death in the inferno that razed at least 20 structures and damaged 50 to 60 more

Why Thousands of Doctors Ordered This For

CHILDREN'S BAD COUGHS

(CAUSED BY COLDS)

Mothers are simply overjoyed about Pertussin because often the first spoonfuls help bring PROMPT relief from bronchial and croupy coughs due to colds. And Pertussin is so pleasant and safe for kiddies to take! Nothing to sicken delicate little stomachs—it's entirely free from dope, chloroform and coal tar products.

Pertussin is scientifically prepared to act at once to relieve your child's coughing spasm. It increases natural secretions in the respiratory tract to soothe dry irritated membranes. It improves ciliary action, loosens sticky phlegm and makes it easier to raise. Also mighty effective for adults. Inexpensive! Any drugstore.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Monday, Feb. 9, 1942

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—Cautious, studious, friendly, charitable; inclined especially to scientific or artistic career. May have unusual literary ability. Aquarians make effective diplomats, actors, journalists. Must overcome a tendency to lackadaisical outlook on life or to waste time fussing with unessential details. Spiritual development is your safeguard. Hard work is a blessing in disguise. The more usefully occupied you are, the happier you'll be, always. Don't be misled to seek personal gains only!

LUCKY NUMBER—Today's lucky number is 26.

LUCKY COLOR—Today's lucky color is black.

Send 15 cents and a large self-addressed stamped envelope to Frances Drake, Boston Evening American, Box 2228, Boston, for an individual horoscope, personal guide and lucky calendar for the first six months of 1942, giving the day and month you were born.

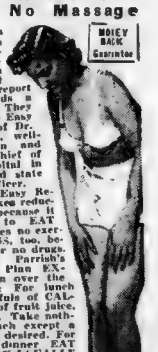
MONEY BACK Guarantee



MEN and women all over this country are reporting remarkable results in losing weight easily. Many report losing 20 pounds a month and more. They are following the Easy Reducing Plan of Dr. Edward Parrish, well-known physician and editor, former chief of a military hospital in this country and state public health officer.

Dr. Parrish's Easy Reducing Plan makes reducing a pleasure because it allows you to EAT PLENTY, requires no exercise. HARMLESS, too, because it calls for no drugs.

Here is Dr. Parrish's Easy Reducing Plan EXACTLY as given over the air to millions: For lunch take 2 teaspoonfuls of CAL-PAR in a glass of fruit juice, or any beverage. Take nothing else for lunch except a cup of coffee if desired. For breakfast and dinner EAT THE FOODS YOU USUALLY DO, but eat sensibly. Don't cut out fatty, starchy foods—just cut down on them. By following Dr. Parrish's Easy Reducing Plan you cut down your daily calorie intake, thus losing weight naturally. You needn't suffer a single hungry moment.

Most overweight people should be helped by Dr. Parrish's Easy Reducing Plan. Try it and you and your friends will be amazed at the improvement in your figure.

CAL-PAR is not a reducing drug—not a reducing agent. It is a special purpose food fortifying the above reducing regimen with certain essential minerals and vitamins. Get CAL-PAR today.

War Time Gives All New Problem

—By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER—

Pushing the clocks up an hour is called war time and it's just that.

Why get a farmer up an hour earlier in February to wait for a catalogue containing nothing but priorities?

Along in April we will move the clocks up another hour and here's what happens in our town. The clock in city hall says four, while the cuckoos chirp five and the church bells ring six.

No matter what you do in our town you can get a witness to swear you were or you were not there at the time. The railroads need only another hour to run their sleepers in the daytime.

SOLDIERS! SAILORS! MARINES!—Don't miss "SERVICE MAN'S FRIEND," the new information aid now appearing in the DAILY RECORD.

LOMBARDI PUTS BLAST ON GILES, CINCI BOSS

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 9 (INS)—Ernie Lombardi, veteran first string catcher of the Cincinnati Reds, said today that he was delighted at being traded to the Boston Braves.

"Boston!" exclaimed "Big Schnoz" happily when advised of the deal.

Then the 34-year-old mittman handed his sister a jar of mayonnaise he had just purchased at the corner grocery. He sat down in the living room, thought a moment and continued:

"I'm glad to get away from Cincinnati. But don't get me wrong. So far as the Cincinnati fans are concerned, I'm sorry to go. They've been swell. But I can't say the same for Warren Giles, the Cincinnati club's general manager.

"We never did get along. The guy never paid me enough. I hope to get a better shake in Boston.

"I know I had a bad year last season. But I wasn't myself. In the first place I had a bad ankle. And my back bothered me, too. But I'm okay now and I'll show Giles he was a dunce to let me go."

Lombardi, who last year—his 10th season with the Reds—batted .264, predicted that he would hit ".300 or better" this year.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

LOMBARDI WILL HELP BRAVES

ERNIE LOMBARDI, veteran catcher, will give the Braves some of the batting punch they need in addition to strengthening them behind the bat. For a period of ten years the former Reds star has hit for .300. Twice he has led the National League in batting, while in 1938 he was voted the most valuable player in the circuit.

Ray Berres, who did most of the catching for the Braves last season, is a good receiver, but a very weak hitter. Better hitting by Berres in clutch spots last season would have enabled the Braves to win a number of additional games.

At the age of 33 Lombardi is not exactly a young man in athletics. His greatest baseball days are probably behind him, but it is likely that Ernie can still play better than average ball for two or three years more.

Big league competition will not be as severe during the coming season with many of the younger stars entering military service. This condition will enable veterans like Lombardi to appear to better advantage.

The deal by which Lombardi comes to the Braves is a sincere effort on the part of Bob Quinn and his associates to give Boston a stronger club in the National League. The group that is backing Quinn has plenty of money and it is willing to spend it for the right material.

For the first time in his Boston baseball career Quinn has the money with which to purchase needed baseball material. Bob waited until he was able to secure players he knew would help the Braves rather than tossing his fresh money recklessly to the baseball winds.

Fernandez a Star

Froilan Fernandez was the first promising player purchased by Quinn. Fernandez was the "Player of the Year" in the coast league, playing for San Francisco.

The 21-year-old Basque hit .327, third best in the league, among players who competed in more than 100 games. Fernandez also led in the following departments:

Most hits—231.

Most total bases—366.

Most runs batted in—129.

Also tied for the most doubles—46; most triples, 16, and was second in home runs with 19.

Fernandez went to bat 706 times, more than any other player in the circuit. He received only 36 walks. Fernandez's fielding was not up to the standard he set at batting. The youngster has speed and his fielding, which is his chief weakness, should improve with experience.

Fernandez can play either shortstop or second base.

A veteran player like Ernie Lombardi will be of tremendous value in helping a youngster like Fernandez. He will be able to direct the Coast flash as to the proper position to play for the various batters.

Lombardi will also improve the Braves pitchers. He knows the batting weaknesses of every player in the field, and has the happy faculty of getting the most out of his pitchers.

Ernie Freak Hitter

They call Lombardi a freak hitter. This is because he will take a whole-hearted belt at a ball over his head or on the outside of the plate and possibly drive it out of the ball park.

"You just can't pitch to Lombardi," Lefty Grove once said after opposing the big catcher on numerous occasions during a barnstorming trip. "It is silly to try to do so. Lombardi is liable to hit at your worst pitch and drive the ball against the outfield wall."

Honus Wagner was the same kind of a hitter when at the height of his career with the Pirates. He would lean over and often knock a poor pitch for a two or three-base hit.

Sherwood Magee was a similar type of batter when with the Phillies. He came to the Braves under George Stallings as a .300 hitter. Stallings insisted that Magee take two strikes before swinging. This system ruined Magee as a batter. It cramped his style to the extent he became an ordinary batter and drifted out of the big leagues.

In 1940, Lombardi suffered an ankle injury that kept him out of the world's series. This mishap gave Jimmy Wilson, old-time coach, his opportunity to go in and catch and become a world's series hero.

Baseball Banker

Lombardi has been the banker for the ballplayers without charging them any interest. Ernie makes a practice of having from $200 to $500 in cash with him. Ballplayers who go broke find Lombardi a soft touch. Hundreds of ballplayers have been helped over financial rough spots by Lombardi's generosity.

Once during a Southern trip, a sneak thief took advantage of the fact Lombardi was a walking bank and stole $300 from the big catcher.

With the passing of the years, Lombardi has slowed down, but he still feels he is fast enough to step along merrily in big league company.

If Lombardi and Fernandez live up to their reputations as hitters, the Braves will add many more games to their victory list, during the coming season.

The important thing about the acquisition of Lombardi and Fernandez is the fact the Braves are in the market with plenty of cash. When the needed baseball strength is available, Bob Quinn can sign as big a check as any owner in the league. Things are certainly picking up at National League Park.

Incidentally, if the Army were to take over National League Park in view of its nearness to the Commonwealth Avenue Armory, Judge Landis would ask Tom Yawkey to open Fenway Park to the Braves. It has always seemed silly to me for major league clubs to have separate parks. In the interest of economy and convenience for the greater number of people, the better ball park in each city should be used by both clubs.

Lights, of course, should be installed so that there can be night games in keeping with the request of President Roosevelt who wishes defense workers to have every opportunity for entertainment to help their morale.

A's Rookie Pitchers Off for Camp

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9 (AP)—An advance detachment of the Athletics was on its way today for the A's training camp at Anaheim, California.

Pitchers Talmadge Abernathy, of Mebane, N. C. and Dick Fowler, of Toronto, and Trainer Jim Tadley made up the party. The A's main party is due to leave Feb. 18.

Ruth Drops Off 25 Pounds

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9 (AP) — A seige of illness has whittled 25 pounds from the ample frame of George Herman Ruth, but he says he feels 10 years younger "and if my legs were good I'd still be belting that ol' horsehide."

The Babe is going to play himself in the movie depicting the life of Lou Gehrig, and he'll be here six weeks, appearing before the cameras and playing golf. He says he's feeling fine.

The Babe says this is one year when picking the pennant winners is a real guessing game, "because you don't know from one day until the next which fellows are going to play and which are going into the service." The Yanks, he thinks, should win again, but the National League chase looks like a six-club affair, with possibly the Cardinals having a very slight edge.

"If the war starts taking a lot of players, mark this: The winner will be the club whose infield survives intact. You can't change your infield around. It's hard to get a smooth working combination. Remove one man and you have to start all over again."

Captain Elects To Sit on Bench

"I can do the team greater service by sitting on the bench while better players do their stuff on the floor," he explains.

Ex-Olympics Sparkle In Bruins' 3-0 Victory

After losing three straight games, the Bruins came back to shut out Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 0, at Boston Garden before the smallest crowd of the season.

Due to the fact that Rangers and Toronto were on the winning ends of their games last night the Bruins didn't gain any ground, but at least they held onto their slim margin over Maple Leafs and are still within hailing distance of the Patricians.

Bobby Bauer, Eddie Wiseman and "Dutch" Hiller did the scoring for the Bruins. Bauer started it late in the opening period, aided and abetted by Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart.

McGILL, MARTIN STAR

In the final chapter, Jack McGill, up from the Olympics, and "Busher" Jackson set up a scoring play for Eddie Wiseman and, with less than five minutes to play, Hiller tallied on a three-man attack with Jack Crawford and Gordie Bruce.

ROY SHIPSTAD AT BEST IN 1942 'ICE FOLLIES'

The "Ice Follies off 1942," featuring a galaxy of blade artists, open Wednesday night at the Garden and continue through Feb. 22.

There will be no show next Saturday because of the annual B. A. A. track games, but there will be matinees on Feb. 15, 21 and 22.

30 MILES AN HOUR

Roy Shipstad, long acclaimed as the world's greatest male skater, hits new heights this year.

Roy has perfected a new skating routine which met with sensational success in appearances on the west coast. He combines the espeed, rhythm and grace of figure skating with the beauty of ballet.

In addition to mastering every known phase of figure skating, Shipstad has created a number of amazingly original steps. These are all incorporated in the 40 different figures which compose his routine.

Due to the smoothness and almost effortless exhibition of the great skater, few people realize that he skims over the ice surface at the speed of 30 miles an hour.

ALL-STAR CAST

Famous ice skating personalities of Ice Follies include Evelyn Chandler, "Queen of the Ice," Bess Ehrhardt, "America's Sweetheart of the Ice," Eddie Shipstad and Oscar Johnson, the world's greatest comedians; the McKellen Brothers, Heine Brock, Frick and Frack, the Swiss hillbillies; Idi Papez and Karl Zwack, Galbraith Brothers, Ruby and Bobby Maxson, Osborne Colson, Fran Claudet, Harris Legg, stilt-skating star par excellence and scores of others, including the beautiful Ice Follettes chorus of graceful skaters.

Headlock Vs. Bear Hug In Title Go

It'll be Ed "Strangler" Lewis' famed headlock against the Angel's bear-hug when the pair clash for the world wrestling championship Wednesday night at the Arena in the main bout of the charity show.

Strangler Lewis

A portion of the proceeds of Promoter Paul Bowser's program will be turned over to the President Roosevelt Infantile Paralysis Fund.

Lewis, former world titlist, knows a lot about the bear-hug from hearsay.

Two of the Strangler's trainers for this match were victims of The Angel when the present champion was on his way to his crown, and this duet are instructing the challenger thoroughly for his comeback.

The semi-final will have Joe Cox, the bad man from Kansas, battling Dave Detton, Pacific Coast champion, while a special match will have "Sliding Bill" Hansen, phantom wrestler from Salt Lake City, against El Diablo, the unknown in the green mask.

As an added attraction, Professor Joe Ricco, an expert at jiu jitsu wrestling, the kind used by the Japs, will exhibit this art against Tiger Tasker, the tough Winnipeg lumberjack.

Preliminary bouts include Chief Osley Saunooke, 300-pound Cherokee Indian vs. Lee Henning of Australia, and George Linehan of Wayland vs. Chris Belkas of Lynn.

Tufts Cancels Diamond Slate

Tufts College has sent requests to opponents for the cancellation of baseball games scheduled for this spring, setting forth an advanced graduation date as the reason for the move. Intramural baseball will replace the varsity games originally scheduled.

Lacrosse has also been abandoned by the Medford institute.

The decision to abandon baseball relieves a somewhat ticklish situation. Coach Ken Nash, a member of the administrative committee of the district court system of Massachusetts, was doubtful if he could find time to fill his duties with the squad.

DOC WELLMAN

Bait Caster Had Yen To Be Writer

He's an Ohio State alumnus, he's a native of Cleveland, he's a baseball nut and he intended to write baseball for a Cleveland paper—yet he's bait casting at the Sportsmen's Show, currently showing twice daily at Mechanics Building.

That's Doc Wellman, husky young chap who is serving his eighth year with the Campbell-Fairbanks Exposition, Inc., which puts on its great outdoor show in Boston, New York, Detroit and Indianapolis this year.

As if that weren't enough, Doc will join another show at the close of the Campbell-Fairbanks productions and visit Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Kansas City.

Wellman, strange as it may seem, bumped into his bait-casting role quite by accident. He had a booth at the show some eight years back, selling true-tempered golf clubs.

It afforded him an outlet for his wanderlust but all the time he was expecting to go back to Cleveland to start sports writing.

There was a hitch in the program one day when the master of ceremonies, to fill in time said, "And now Doc Wellman will give you a few pointers on bait casting."

Doc went through, not being entirely a novice at the business, and so popular was his act that the owners demanded he perform regularly. He's been doing it ever since.

He hasn't given up his interest in the particular golf clubs, however. In fact he's proud of this end of his business, because his company recently perfected a steel shell case which was purchased by the Canadian government.

Harvard Sports-for-All Recalls Sargent Plan

When the faculty board of Harvard University meets tomorrow to approve the first program of compulsory athletics for all undergraduates ever to be presented at Harvard, it will recall memories of 1919, when, at a similar meeting, compulsory athletics for freshmen were approved.

C. B. Van Wyck, secretary of the Harvard Department of Physical Education, pointed out that credit for the new program belonged not only to its author, William J. Bingham, Harvard athletic director, but also to the late Dudley Allen Sargent, professor of physical education at Harvard for 40 years, and the founder, in 1881, of Sargent College of Physical Education for Women.

SARGENT PLAN BEATEN

Van Wyck, who was Dr. Sargent's secretary for more than 20 years, sketched the latter's contributions briefly:

"Dr. Sargent came to Harvard in 1879, the year old Hemenway gym was built. At that time, Amherst was the only college with a compulsory athletic program.

"Sargent, the reformer, was first assistant, then professor of physical education, director of the gym, and member of the athletic committee.

"With no co-operation from the faculty, he began agitating for required athletics in the late 80's. His biggest mistake was his complete tactlessness. Without mincing words, he criticized professionalism in intercollegiate athletics, even at Harvard. By so doing, he antagonized the Harvard athletes.

"He criticized the policy of the university in spending great sums of money on a body of 15 or 20 men while the great majority of the undregraduates did nothing. He didn't get to first base.

"In 1897, his ideas faced the crisis before a militant faculty. He advocated, first, a required exam for every entering freshman; second, required exercise for freshmen, to be counted toward a degree.

"The argument was so bitter that students taking the required English course wrote compositions pro and con the merits of the system.

"The faculty met in Fogg Art Museum and a prominent alumnus offered to donate $100,000 toward the establishment of the plan. It was defeated.

"After this, Dr. Sargent became so absorbed in his work at Sargent College and at the summer school for physical education which he organized in 1887 that he gradually lost interest in the application of his plan at Harvard."

CONSERVATIVE HARVARD

First recognition of Dr. Sargent's work came in the spring of 1914, when the faculty approved of physical exams for entering freshmen. In the fall of the same year, Dr. Roger L. Lee was appointed Oliver Professor of Hygiene.

"In 1917, war and the draft revealed that a large percentage of men, Harvard men included, were in poor physical condition," Van Wyck went on. "Dr. Lee was overseas.

"When he returned in 1919, Dr. Lee succeeded in having a measure passed requiring freshmen to take exercise three times a week. This was in September, the exact time when Sargent ended his term of service here."

Asked what were the principal reasons for Harvard's slowness in finally taking action when in 1919, 70 or 80 per cent of American colleges already had such a plan, Van Wyck replied:

"Harvard was conservative, independent financially, and felt she could make her own way. Also, the elective academic system, whereby a student could choose his own courses, helped to establish the elective psychology in everything else he did. Then, too, the faculty considered the student mature enough to do things for himself."

AL SIMMONS SEES A'S 4TH

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—The Athletics, who wound up last season in eighth, will finish the coming season in fourth place if they get the breaks and "no worse than fifth, no matter what happens."

That's the starry-eyed prediction of Al Simmons, "Old Bucketfoot," now a coach for Connie Mack.

Simmons' optimism wasn't shaken by the fact that the Athletics lost their brightest star, Outfielder Sam Chapman, and their regular second baseman, Benny McCoy, to the Army and Navy.

"We hit only a point less than the Yankees last season," he explained, "and we lost a lot of games that a little better pitching might have won. I think our hitting will be as good and our pitching better this year."

'BETTER THAN '14 TEAM,' FANS SAY OF BRAVES

By HERB FINNEGAN

Poor relatives in the Boston baseball family since Tom Yawkey purchased the Red Sox eight years back, Boston's Braves will make a serious bid to take the play away from the Fenway Flock during this 1942 campaign.

It is apparent that the Braves have corrected whatever might have been their weaknesses. In fact on paper they look not only like a first division club but an actual pennant contender.

For example, they will be able to field a lineup like this on opening day:

Sisti 2b, Cooney 1b, Fernandez 3b, West lf, Ross rf, Holmes cf, Miller ss, Lombardi c, Tobin p.

There is power in that lineup, plenty of power. And lack of it has been the Braves' big weakness over the year.

Fernandez, West, Ross, Miller and Lombardi are capable of cracking the game wide open at any minute. Cooney and Holmes are dependable .300 hitters.

Sisti, now 21 and getting the feel of things, may reach the stardom expected of him this year.

There is youth in the lineup, with a smattering of veterans, a workmanlike combination.

SPAHN'S 1.83 RECORD

There will be reserve strength, too, what with Paul Waner, Tony Cuccinello, Al Roberge and others around.

"The best Braves team since '14," is the consensus among the fans.

The team will be strong defensively, whether Sisti is used at second or third. The kid is a potential marvel, whose great speed would seem to lend him to the middle of the infield rather than to the extremity. A few months with Cuccinello coaching him on the intricacies of second base play, Sisti should rank with the league's best.

There will be pitching, too.

Jim Tobin is a top-notcher, as he proved last season. Warren Spahn, who won't be 21 until April, is rated the finest southpaw prospect to come into the league since Carl Hubbell.

He won 19 games while losing only six for Evansville last year and had the phenomenal earned run average of 1.83. He will remind you ofthe 1924 Johnny Cooney in action and there were few better than young John when he was pitching.

Big Bill Donovan, another Evansville product, also seems to have what it takes. The 6-2 southpaw had a 17-6 record under Bob Coleman last year and has been marked "ready."

Fellows like Tom Early, Dick Errickson and Al Javery seem on the threshold of stardom.

Yes, it looks like quite a lineup. Offhand, we'd say only the Cards and Dodgers had a beter all-round lineup. Certainly the Reds cannot match the Braves power.

WHY LOM WAS LATE

Boston will love Lombardi. The good-natured giant is one of the game's truly great batsmen. He's a line drive hitter, who will do as well at the Wigwam as anywhere else. When Lom hits them, they go for baseHits, no matter who's in front of them.

We recall clearly a game between the Reds and Red Sox in Cincinnati last spring, just before the Sox came east to open their season.

Lom was hitting fiercely that day. In the fifth inning he drove a cannon ball at Jimmy Foxx which Jimmy wisely ducked and let roll for a double into the right field corner.

In the seventh inning, he hit one just as viciously at Bobby Doerr at second base.

Bobby, with that old collegiate spirit, tried to stop it with his gloved hand. The memory of the ball carrying his glove into deep right field is vivid. Not only carried his glove away but broke Bobby's thumb.

Yes, big Lom can hit. No finer right field hitter has been around since Hornsby.

One more thing about him. He's been considered something of a goat since he let Joe Di Maggio slide over the plate with the winning run in his famous "sleeping act" in the 1940 World Series.

Well, his teammates insisted last spring that Goodman's throw from right field hit Lom so fiercely in the groin that only by a superhuman effort did he arise from the ground and try to catch the sliding Di Maggio. Any other catcher, they claim, would have spent 10 minutes writhing on the ground.

Carmelita Landry Wins More Honors

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—The North country speed skating championships were dominated here by Carmelita Landry and Ted Ellenwood.

The North American and national women's champion from Fitchburg, Mass., swept women's events clean, while the Eastern states men's titleholder ran off with four events and came second in a fifth. Miss Landry's winning total was 90 points, Ellenwood's 140.

In addition, Miss Landry won the meet's "outstanding skater" trophy, and Ellenwood claimed a special three-mile race award.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 9 (AP)—The Hershey Bears, Western Division leaders of the American Hockey League, had enough on the ball in their Sunday game to withstand a third-period surge by the Rhode Island Reds and emerge with a 5-4 victory before 6000 at Providence Auditorium.

WORLD RECORD—Charles Hlad, Michigan Normal, lowers Roy Staley's world record in heat of 60-yard hurdles at Millrose Games to 7.2. Hlad could do no better than third in 7.4 final. There's nobody beating Fred Wolcott. Bob Wright of Ohio State, at extreme left here, was second to Wolcott in final. Harvard hurdler in picture is John J. McKinney. Figure at extreme right is supposed to be Joe Pausha of Manhattan but he looks like a Yale boy.

Warmerdam Prediction Fulfilled

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Cornelius Warmerdam, who tells the school children of Piedmont, Cal., never to tell a lie, proved to the 15,000 fans at the Millrose games Saturday night that he practices what he teaches.

Two weeks ago he promised that if the pole vault runway were lengthened to 137 feet he would make the world's first 15-foot indoor jump.

The path was stretched that distance—and Warmerdam showed showed his appreciation by going ⅜ of an inch above the promised height.

The Californian sat on the sidelines while the other vaulters struggled to 12 feet, then he got into the fray with a barrowed pole because his own bamboo stick failed to arrive.

He made each succeeding height on his first try as he climbed past the former Millrose record of 14 feet 3 inches and the 14 foot 7⅛ inch standard that previously stood as the best indoor accomplishment.

It was the thirteenth time Warmerdam had zoomed over the 15-foot mark and the first time he had turned the trick indoors. He is the only person to have accomplished it, indoors or out.

His achievement was one of the two world indoor marks established. Charles Hlad of Michigan Normal, was clocked in :07.2 while winning his semi-final heat of the 60-yard high hurdles. Norwood Ewell of Penn State, equalled the accepted time of :06.1 in winning the 60-yard dash.

$1000 Angling Prize To Jersey Matron

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Carolyn B. Meyer of Elberon, N. J., has been named the winner of the $1000 George Ruppert outstanding angling achievement prize of 1941 for the 818-pound tuna she caught off Bailey Island, Me., on last Aug. 3.

In addition, Mrs. Meyer also was awarded a $250 check for topping all the contestants in the tuna division.

Ruppert said that Mrs. Meyer's catch established a record for women. The fish was 9 feet 11½ inches long and had a girth of 6 feet 5 inches.

Wait Word From Rice On B. A. A. Meet Entry

B. A. A. meet officials were awaiting word from Gregory Rice today as to whether that worthy would be able to go through with his promise to run in the Billings two-mile at the Garden next Saturday night.

The gritty little Notre Dame product may have injured himself severely when he defeated Gilbert Dodds in the second fastest two-miles ever run (8:52.8) at the Millrose games last Saturday.

RECALLS JOIE RAY

Rice, as is well known, has a double hernia. So serious is it that he has been rejected by the Army. In competition he wears a truss, which broke as he was pursuing Dodds Saturday.

It's an old story now how Rice refused to quit, when quitting was in order. But he kept on in the most amazing exhibition of foot-racing courage since Joie Ray finished third in the 1928 B. A. A. marathon with the blood oozing from his shoes.

Rice not only kept on, but made up a 20-yard deficit to defeat the newcomer by two steps. But as he crossed the finish line, a victor for the 21st straight time, he fell into the waiting arms of friends, and was carried screaming from the track.

TO RACE MacMITCHELL

Nobody knows how excruciating was the pain he suffered. Nobody but Rice himself. And as yet no word has been received from him here.

If he is unable to run, much lustre will be taken from the 53d annual B. A. A. games because no more popular runner ever trod the pine saucer than the young Montanan whose courage alone has made him the greatest distance runner in world's history.

Dodds, a Nebraskan now training under Jack Ryder at B. C., will not race Rice Saturday, whether or not Rice starts. Dodds, trained to the minute, will go after Les MacMitchell's scalp in the Hunter Mile.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9 (AP)—From now on it'll be the Phils, not the Phillies, the management of the Philadelphia National League Baseball club announced.

"The shorter name should be more popular, and it's more appropriate," said Bill Phillips, the club press agent. "Lobert (Manager Hans Lobert) wants speed and is going to streamline the club's style of play, so we've streamlined the name."

The team has been known as the Phillies since 1883.

Weston Adams Enters Navy; Hollett Most Versatile in N.H.L.

Frankie Brimsek came up with his third shutout of the season when he blanked Detroit Red Wings. He had previously held Canadiens and Maple Leafs scoreless . . . Jack McGill and Clare Martin did well in their N. H. L. debut. Apparently the step from the Eastern Amateur Hockey League to the N. H. L. isn't as wide as some people would like you to believe. Neither of the former Olympics gave the slightest indication that they are "sugar bushers." In fact, Martin made one of the smartest plays of the night when he gave Woody Dumart a pass at the Detroit blue line and jumped through the defense in time to take the return pass. He got off a real shot but Johnny Mowers came up with a great save.

FAREWELL TO O'S

Gronsdal Joins B's

Lloyd Gronsdal from Norquay, Sask., third player of the Boston Olympics promoted to the Bruins, was due to arrive in the Hub today from Baltimore to sign his professional contract with the Stanley Cup holders.

The heavy set 20-year-old right winger was following his two other mates, Clare Martin and Jack McGill, who were signed after Saturday night's 7-4 win over New York Rovers.

WADE WITH HERSHEY

Jake Wade, the fourth of five Canadian players on the Olympics' roster who was sent to Hershey for more seasoning, was in the Bears' lineup Saturday night and again last night in Providence.

Gronsdal, who had been the leading goal getter for the Olympics until two weeks ago when McGill passed him, played his last amateur league contest in the Olympics 3-3 deadlock last night with Baltimore Orioles.

He will don his new spangles tomorrow night and will face the Canadiens at the Garden.

The Pics, still three games ahead of the New York Rovers, were dealt another blow when their star goaler, Vic Polich, was ordered to Hibbing, Minn., today to appear before his local draft board.

Vic was not in the cage in the Baltimore game. He was replaced by Gerry Cosby, one of Walter Brown's original Olympics. In the event Polich will not be on hand for tomorrow night's game with Washington Eagles to be played in the Capital, Cosby again will guard the cage.

To replace his lost players, Coach Hago Harrington used Bob Priestly, former Melrose High hockey star and last year a member of Brown University's football team; Red McCarthy and Bill Hagblom, both of the Junior Olympics, and Junie Allen, former Olympic player, against the Orioles.

ANDERSON PENALIZED

Gerry Desrosiers, Cy Beigler and Al Dumond tallied for the Pics against Baltimore, all in the opening period. The Birds deadlocked the count in the middle frame.

In the third chapter, a match-misconduct penalty was called on Ty Anderson when his stick was found to measure 58 inches, or five inches over legal limit.

Anderson's stick was challenged by Elmer Piper, Orioles' coach, just after the period started, and Anderson was ordered out for the rest of the game.

Following tomorrow night's game in Washington, Coach Harrington will lead his club back to Boston. They will remain here until Friday when they head for Atlantic City to play the Sea Gulls. Then they'll meet the Johnstown Blue Birds Saturday and again on Sunday.

ALBANESE, DEVINE SEEK 'PURE' BERTHS

Former New England champion, Pat Devine, Cambridge, will be among the candidates seeking places in the Diamond Ring tourney finals tonight when the Irish American A. A. conducts its second elimination at the Arena.

Devine will be stacked against a pair of tough opponents in Carmen DeBere, North End, and Paul Roshka, Providence.

Another top-notcher entered is Tom Albanese, 147-pounder.

All eight classes on tonight's card arranged are well filled, and the show will get going at 8:30.

Among those listed for action are:

112—George Baker, Lynn; Walter Kijanka, Lowell; John Sheridan, Malden.

118—James Lyman, Lowell; Peter Tournas, Lynn; Joe Hayes, Brockton; Enrico Cessarini, Springfield.

126—Norman Giles, Wilmington; Bob Zollo, Providence; Joe Monteiro, Wareham; Patsy Vocino, Somerville.

135—Orlando Meola, East Boston; William Timilty, Roxbury; Stanley Locke, Rockland; Gasper Giunta, Fort Devens.

147 — Irving Luce, Boston; Charles Fallon, Lawrence; Louis Sagesse, Chelsea; Tom Albanese, East Boson.

160—Domenic Genovese, Boston, and Al Brien, Lawrence.

175—Mike Leone, Boston; Anthony Bonamo, Malden; James Faggiano, Lawrence; Stanley Zazabewski, South Boston.

SKIING COLE BOYS COP 78 PRIZES IN 3 YEARS

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 9—Skiing brothers are Eddie and Ollie Cole of this town, aged 15 and 17 respectively, who have won 78 ski prizes in three years of competition.

Visiting these boys at their home here, we were amazed at the collection of cups, ribbons, and medals which they have amassed.

With justifiable pride, Mr. and Mrs. Cole have the trophies neatly on display in a glass showcase in the living room. At the rate the boys are going now, they had better order more showcases!

Oliver Cole, Sr., started the boys on their skiing careers as soon as they were able to walk.

He does not claim any credit for teaching them, however, but says the lads reached their expert degree of proficiency by following other skiers and instructors who were better than themselves.

These individuals are now following the Cole boys or trying to keep up with them!

The Plymouth Ski Club is represented in races by a team consisting of the Cole brothers, 12-year-old Billy Beck, and Johnny Hibbard, 19.

In the inter-club giant slalom on Cranmore Mountain last month, Eddie finished a close second to Howard Chivers, coach of Gould Academy. Ollie schussed through the flags in fourth position, with Johnny capturing the sixth award.

Little Billy Beck finished 20th in the field of over 100 club and college slalom stars, thus cinching first place for their team at this meet.

BOTH "A" STUDENTS

Eddie Cole is the Maine junior downhill, slalom and jumping champion. In December brother Ollie was sixth in the invitation slalom on Cannon Mountain, only six seconds behind the national champion, Toni Matt of the Eastern Slopes Ski School.

Besides excelling in skiing, both boys are "A" students in Plymouth High School. They are very modest and unassuming, and do not talk about their achievements unless they are so urged.

These teen-aged satellites of the skis are stylists and display fine form in downhill and slalom. As good skiers should, the boys constantly ski on the very tips of their skis, pivoting with the grace and rhythm of toe dancers. Here is poetry in motion.

Such junior skiers as the Cole brothers are rapidly springing up throughout America.

In the not-too-far distant future, when the Olympic games are again resumed, fellows of this type will put America at the top of the ski world.

Junior skiers, clubs and activities must be fostered and encouraged. America will need them as man!

Mrs. F. D. Denies Using Pull to Pack OCD Jobs

was necessary for civilian defense to give children dancing lessons.

The whole thing, Mrs. Roosevelt answered, revolves on the question of physical fitness. We are here to win the war, she continued, and we must take into consideration that 50 per cent of the draftees were declared unfit and in some places like North Carolina, 60 per cent were found unfit.

Here again Mrs. Roosevelt said that reporters ought to quote her directly on the following:

"There is one inescapable law and that is to win the war and to win the war physical fitness will play a tremendous part."

WHO NAMED DOUGLAS?

Questioned as to why Miss Chaney was given the job instead of a physical culture teacher, she declared Miss Chaney had wider contacts.

"Miss Chaney had a plan," Mrs. Roosevelt reiterated.

She insisted that Miss Chaney was appointed by John Kelly, head of the physical fitness program of OCD. Mrs. Roosevelt was asked who appointed Douglas. She replied that she did not have the least idea.

Other than to say Miss Chaney's plan included exercises for adults and dancing for children, Mrs. Roosevelt would not elaborate on it.

Sen. Downey (D.) of California, meanwhile, defended the appointment of Melvyn Douglas, charging critics of the actor with creating a "tempest in a teapot" which is distracting "our attention from vital war duties."

MAY BE HOPKINS AIDE

Earlier, with Congress on the eve of a showdown over his activities in the Office of Civil Defense, a report spread through the Capitol that Douglas is slated for appointment as chief assistant to Harry Hopkins in the lend-lease administrative setup.

Rep. Taber (R.) of New York, leader in the fight to "purge actors, fan dancers and parasites" from Mrs. Roosevelt's volunteer participation section in OCD, said he had heard the report, but added:

"Perhaps the idea is to spread that around so we'll think if we get Douglas out of his present post he'll be put in one where he can do more harm."

Meanwhile, Douglas issued a statement denying he is being paid $8000 for his OCD job, declaring:

"In Civil Service language my title is 'expert consultant.' I am working on a W. O. C. basis, which means without compensation."

"Here is the job which Dean Landis, executive of the Office of Civilian Defense, described to me and which I accepted. All over America there are actors, writers, playwrights, radio stars, song writers, band leaders and singers who want to do their part in the war effort."

He added it was necessary for the OCD to have a clearing house to aid and encourage these people and to "put their talents to use in our common cause."

La Guardia Blocked Miss Chaney in N. Y. Defense Morale Job

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Mayor La Guardia told questioners today he had blocked the assignment of Mayris Chaney, Philadelphia dancer and friend of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, to the morale division of the Office of Civilian Defense in New York last December.

The mayor, also OCD director, told newspaper men it was "substantially correct" that he had failed to approve the assignment at a salary of $12.70 daily. No reason was given.

SPECIALIST PREVENTS BALDNESS

BOSTON, Feb. 8 (JW)—"If you are losing your hair or have an annoying scalp disorder, you can be helped," says John E. Warner, noted scalp specialist. "By correcting and eliminating the cause of your trouble I can prevent baldness for you and give you a normal, healthy scalp. My services are NOT offered to those completely bald (except cases of alopecia areata) because hair once lost cannot be re-grown. Don't wait until disfiguring baldness has permanently ruined your appearance.

"If your head itches, or your hair is excessively dry, oily and falling, take heed of these signs of approaching baldness and come in for a free hair and scalp examination today. No case is ever accepted unless I feel sure you can be helped. My scientific treatment is superior and more effective because of constant research and study; yet the fees are within the reach of all.

"Come in today and learn how I can help you, just as thousands of others, troubled as you are, have been helped." The Warner offices are conveniently located at 320 Little Bldg., Cor. Boylston and Tremont Sts. Phone Hub. 1705. Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M., daily—Saturdays to 6 P. M. Fees for treatment are very moderate and are paid as the treatments are taken—NOT IN ADVANCE. There is a separate department for women. Warner Associates, Coast to Coast—Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles and Hartford, Conn., at 750 Main Street. Adv.

First Bond for Bombers—In the State House Hall of Flags, against the background of the banners Massachusetts men have carried into all the wars of our country, the first actual defense bond purchase in the "Buy Bonds for Bombers" campaign is made. Edward T. Mulkern, wounded and decorated hero of World War I, buys a $5000 bond for Irving J. Adams Post, American Legion, of Roslindale, in quick response to the State Department's pledge of $100,000 subscription in the bomber drive. He is receiving the bond from Mrs. Rita Monroe of the State Department.
